Voegele, Patterson appointed

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer
William "Mike" Ebersold, city clerk of Venice for 20 years, was inaugurated Tuesday night as mayor of Venice to serve the three years remaining in the term of the late Dr. John E. Lee.

Ebersold's first duties were to appoint the interim city mayor, Lloyd Patterson, as the new Venice City Clerk, and Thomas J. Voegele, 27 Abbott St., as the new Venice First Ward alderman, to fill the vacancy created by Patterson's change of offices.

Ebersold was sworn in before a crowd of about 80 persons in the City Council chambers of the Venice City Hall. City Comptroller Carl Byrnes read the oath of office to the new mayor.

After being sworn in, Mayor Ebersold thanked the citizens of Venice and the aldermen for their confidence in him and for the support he has received during the past 20 years while serving as city clerk.

In an emotional moment, Ebersold commented, "It's five months today that Dr. Lee died." Then with his voice quivering, he added, "It's sort of rough to take a guy's place."

Referring to the newly redecorated and expanded city hall facilities, the mayor said, "What you see here is all his doing."

Recalling his years of service with Dr. Lee, Ebersold commented, "If he thought I was wrong, he told me so and if I thought he was wrong, I told him so, but not quite so loud, because he was the boss. We worked very well together."

"The city itself is coming along very well. Many of the things you will see in the next three years will be in memory of Dr. Lee," Ebersold told those present.

His speech interspersed with sobs, Ebersold explained, "It's all right for grown men to cry. They say some of our greatest presidents sometimes went out to the shed alone for a good cry." He also said, "It may be a little mushy tonight, but the reins will get tight tomorrow."

Patterson, who served as interim mayor from shortly after Dr. Lee's death on Nov. 30, 1973, until Ebersold's inauguration, was read the oath of office by Byrnes. He then told those present, "I offer my thanks to the city council for electing me to serve in the interim and for its cooperation during that period. Without it, I could not have done this job."

"The aldermen expressed their confidence in me and then backed me up," he said. "I'd like to read something that I used when I first ran for office," Patterson said and read, "God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I should and the wisdom to know the difference."

As his first official action in the city clerk's post, Patterson read the oath of office to Voegele.

Byrnes read a letter to Ebersold from Gov. Dan Walker of Illinois, the text of which follows:

"On behalf of the state of Illinois, may I take this opportunity to congratulate you on your inauguration as mayor of the city of Venice, Ill."

"Since my own inauguration, I have made it my business to talk to as many local officials as possible. They, and now you, are the officials closest to the people. You are in the best position to see what the needs of the people are."

"You've got a tough job ahead of you, if I or any members of my staff can be of help to you in the conduct of business."

Ebersold then unveiled a plaque dedicating the newly redecorated City Hall in honor of Dr. Lee. He told the late mayor's widow, Mrs. Margaret Lee, and her son, John "Jack" Lee, "We have all been so dedicated in the last 16 years, and everything that I do will be dedicated to that man (Dr. Lee)."

Nominee assails No Long Lake fire sheriff conduct tax due to error; district to borrow

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
The Long Lake Fire Protection district which operates the Long Lake Fire Department at Pontoon Beach will receive no tax revenue during its 1974-75 fiscal year because of a "misunderstanding" under which the district filed no tax levy with the county clerk's office last fall, it was learned by the Press-Record this week.

As a result, the district will finance its operations during the next year on borrowed money which the board of trustees expects to repay over the next three or four years by extending the district's maximum tax rate of 30 cents per $100 assessed valuation for as long as necessary, according to William Schooley, attorney for the fire district.

No tax rate for the fire district has been fixed by the county clerk's office in its annual extension of new 1973 rates for all Madison County taxing bodies. Tax bills based on the new rates are payable this summer.

The office of the county clerk's tax department said no rate was extended for the Long Lake district because no tax levy was filed by the district prior to the deadline last September, unless that time, and that under state law it is now too late to rectify the error.

Schooley said that no levy was filed because of his interpretation of a state statute which authorizes the county clerk "to extend the rate annually" once a levy has been filed. The attorney contended the district's previous levy should have been sufficient authority for the clerk's office to extend a tax rate this year.

The district's tax rate for the 1972 year on the basis of which taxes were collected in 1973 was 24.5 cents per $100 valuation. District tax bills last year totaled $80,749.

The lack of this year's tax rate will present no major problem so far as operation of the district is concerned, Schooley said, emphasizing that fire protection to the Pontoon Beach and Nameoki Township areas protected by the district will continue as usual.

"We can raise operating funds by issuing anticipation warrants to 75 per cent of income based on an anticipated tax rate of 30 cents for next year," Schooley said. He explained that the 30-cent maximum rate could then be extended over three or four years or for so long as the borrowed money.

Striking Venice school teachers who are seeking a 6 per cent salary increase were meeting today to hear a report to a Board of Education proposal given the union in a meeting of the board and members of the teachers' negotiating committee last night.

Picketing continued meanwhile at the Venice elementary and high school and at the Lincoln Vocational Center. All classes have been shutdown since the strike began April 22.

The school board's offer Wednesday night provided a $200 lump sum salary increase for all teachers for the 1973-74 school year and another such increase for the 1974-75 school year which begins July 1, plus the division of an anticipated $6,600 in state aid among teachers now in the top (tenth) step of the annual salary schedule.

Miss Irene Hackett, president of Local 965 of the American Federation of Teachers, said the negotiators informed the board that the offer was not acceptable, "but that as a matter of course we would present it to the membership."

Previously, school board members offered only the $200 lump sum increase for the 1973-74 school year because of financial problems which, school officials said, would not permit the district to go above that amount.

The raise of 6 per cent requested by the teachers would cost the district $485 to $888 per year depending on varying steps of the salary schedule. Miss Hackett said the teachers' proposal would cost the district a total of $27,399 for the school year.

Any raises granted by the Tipton Appliance Store opens here

A new Tipton Appliance Store opened yesterday as the second store to begin business in the new Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center on Narwood Road.

The new Schermer branch will hold its grand opening, starting with a ribbon cutting at 9:30 a.m. Friday, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler and two city aldermen, Claude Green and R.E. Robertson, will assist store manager Paul Crake in cutting the ribbon.

The Tipton store features televisions, stereos and major appliances, displayed on an 8,800 foot display area. Jerry Bolt, manager of the local store, said stereo equipment may be selected from an 800-square-foot audio room, the large it in this area.

He added that the store also has a large display of refrigerators, freezers and air conditioners and carries a variety of television and audio areas.

The store opened with six employees. Bolt said he hopes to increase to about 15 employees as the store becomes established here.

The local Tipton store is the 10th in the Tipton chain. An 11th will open soon at Brown Campus in St. Louis.

Quadrant area contractors and business agents will meet monthly this summer in a continuing effort to improve construction efficiency and to keep costs competitive.

The plans were disclosed yesterday at the last in a series of informal labor-management seminars held in conjunction with monthly prayer breakfasts sponsored by the Granite City Rotary Club's Community Service Division.

The June prayer breakfast will be devoted to traffic control issues.

Bill Terrell presided and panelists included Arthur Griffin, Philip Redick, G. H. Sternberg and John Ubaldi. Others who have participated in the presentations during the spring.

Complex factors affect labor unions but dealing with several of them individually it may be possible to achieve breakthroughs, it was contended.

Manpower assignments, craft jurisdictions, safety precautions, timely arrival of materials, varying supply costs, unofficial productivity patterns and differing building codes are among the aspects of construction affecting overall construction costs.

High praise for the diligence and craftsmanship of Quad-City area trades unions has been reported repeatedly during the discussion series.

Forty-six attended the May breakfast, with Ed Edwards as host.

In other business yesterday, the prayer group went on record as endorsing the Madison Community College Board's decision assigning the Granite City school district and other local school systems to Belleville Area College.

Prayer breakfast members are circulating petitions favoring BAC and will be among those attending a formal state hearing on Granite City District Nine called for 2 p.m. Thursday, May 9, at the GCHS South auditorium.

retirement, set this year at 8.68 cents, compared to 7.24 cents last year. The veterans assistance rate was set at 1.50 cents, up from 1.83 cents, and the rate for maps and plats is 2.44 cents, up from 2.14 cents. For the mental health account, the new rate is 5.11 cents, up from 4.48 cents.

The countywide rate is applied to bills of all property owners, county-wide. It will be applied this year against a total assessed valuation of $80,897,926 which includes railroad and capital stock assessments. This is an increase of $13,510,417 over last year's total valuation of $67,387,509.

VENICE FIREMEN BATTLE a two-hour fire Tuesday at the two-story residence of Andrew Forchard and family, 203 Ashbrook Street, Venice. The fire, of unknown origin, started shortly after 4 p.m., apparently in a second floor room on the right where streams of water are concentrated. The fire caused an estimated $6,000 damage to the property and $2,000 to the contents. No injuries were reported. Twenty firemen fought the blaze from 4:25 to 6:30 p.m. (Press-Record Photo)

New Granite City police phone numbers next week

A new telephone system will go into effect at the Granite City Police Department Monday, it was announced today.

The basic number for emergency telephone calls will remain the same, 877-6111, while new numbers will be used for the administrative offices and the investigative office.

The new administrative number of 451-9760 should be used to contact the offices of the chief of police, the commander of field operations, the police community relations staff, the parking meter division, the watch commander and the records bureau.

The investigative division, including detectives and the juvenile officer, should be reached at 876-9027.

The change in the telephone system will become effective at 8 a.m. Monday and the desk officer reached at the emergency number will not be able to switch calls to other offices.

The desk officer will be asked to give the new telephone numbers to callers, beginning Monday.

Granite City Chief of Police Ronald Veizer said today, "The department will attempt to upgrade its complaint answering time through the change," he said.

"We ask the public to bear with us through the changeover time and attempt to call the proper number."

"We hope that this decreases the answer time on emergency calls, thereby giving greater service to all citizens in time of need," Veizer said.

The chief added that telephone stickers with the new numbers are being printed and will be distributed in the near future.

Impact group to be formed

An alliance of labor, government and organizations from Illinois and Missouri is being formed and will call itself Impact, it was disclosed today.

Purpose of the organization will be to promote development on both sides of the Mississippi River, a spokesman said. A mid-river announcement of the group's formation is expected next week to dramatize the bi-state nature of the organization.

The makeup of the membership has not been completed, but Illinois and Missouri will have equal representation, a spokesman said. Funding will be primarily from labor unions, he added.

GC students to hold city posts

As part of the Elks National Youth Week observance, Wednesday, May 8, has been proclaimed by Mayor Paul Schuler as "Granite City Elks Youth Government Day."

Elks Exalted Ruler Don Watson and Clyde Mertz, youth activities chairman, said today that local high school students will occupy the offices of mayor, city clerk, city treasurer, fire chief and chief of police on Wednesday.

Students chosen from Granite City High School South to serve in City Hall posts are Mike Siebert who will act as mayor; Winnie Freedman, city clerk; and John Avedesian, chief of police.

Keith Lucas and Chuck Logus, students from Granite City High School North, will occupy the offices of treasurer and fire chief, respectively.

The students and their official counterparts will meet for a "get acquainted" lunch at Charlie's Restaurant, accompanied by Watson and Mertz. The remainder of the day will be spent "running" the city, Elks officers said.

Graduation 'more personal'

Southern Illinois University at Carbondale's 1974 Honors Day roster will be the biggest ever—but the ceremony will be more "personal" than it has since the school's two-block campus days in the 1930's and '40's.

John Parker dies at 82

John Henry Parker, 82, of 2413 State St., who retired last year as a self-employed general hauler, died at 6:35 a.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital where he had been a patient three days following a one-year illness.

Born in Howes Mill, Mo., he had resided here since 1957 and was a member of Grace Baptist Church of Granite City. Mr. Parker is survived by his wife Pearl (Nelson) Parker; one daughter, Mrs. Wayne (Alma) White of Salem, Mo.; two sons, L.C. Parker of Granite City and Lowell Parker of Phoenix, Ariz.; three brothers, Clifford of Iron Mountain, Mo., Reverend Virgil Parker of Salem, Mo., and Escot of Tulsa, Okla.; two sisters, Mrs. Cora Dalton of St. Louis and Mrs. Opal Bay of Salem, Mo.; six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

University's top undergraduate scholars will be conducted by individual schools and colleges instead of in one mass ceremony, which had in recent years become a marathon recital of names.

Elmer Clark, College of Education dean and chairman of the Honors Day Committee, said student complaints about the "impersonality" of the ceremony brought about the change.

The Sunday afternoon affair will be conducted in sessions at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. at various campus auditoriums. A single reception for honors students, their parents and guests—a feature of past ceremonies—has been scheduled from 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. in the Student Center ballrooms.

Admissions and Records Office figures indicate that some 2,000 students will be honored for academic achievement. Honors Day recognition goes to juniors and seniors with overall grade point averages of 3.5 or better (on a 5.0 scale), and to lower classmen with averages of 4.5 or above.

Students who have won special awards or scholarships during the year will be accorded special recognition at the separate ceremonies. In the past, they had to be content with listing in the Honors Day program.

Mrs. Delaloye dies at 66

Funeral services were held today for Mrs. Catherine M. Delaloye (Loftus), 66, of 2819 1/2 Lincoln Ave., a retired nurse at St. Elizabeth Hospital here, who died at 1:09 a.m. Tuesday at the hospital where she had been a patient one week. She had been ill for the past three years.

A lifelong Quad-City area resident, she was born in Venice. She was a member of the Nurses Alumnae at the hospital.

Mrs. Delaloye is survived by her husband Albert J. Delaloye, a son, Albert C. Granite City; two daughters, Mrs. Joe (Eugenia) Cathey and Mrs. Edward (Rose) Moad, both of Granite City; three sisters, Mrs. Rosalie Butler, Madison, Mo.; Mrs. (Margaret) Higgins, St. Louis; and Mrs. William (Mary Lou) Rhoades of Ten Loftus of Madison, Ferd Loftus, St. Louis, and William O'Toole of Belleville, and four grandchildren.

Funeral details are given in today's obituary column.

Mrs. Saksa dies suddenly

Mrs. Carlotta "Corky" Saksa (Kimball), 51, of 2200 Garfield Ave., was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 8:55 p.m. Monday after suffering a sudden illness at home.

An autopsy was performed and an inquiry into the cause of death is to be held.

Mrs. Saksa was resided in the Quad-City area 20 years. She was a veteran of World War II and drove heavy equipment for the U.S. Coast Guard.

Surviving are her husband, Andrew, and two brothers, Ralph Kimball of Fort Myers, Fla. and George Kimball of East St. Louis.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Track Warriors top Kahoks

Granite City South trackmen captured nine of 15 events at home Monday to top Collinsville 74-66.

Warrior Dave Ruebhausen led the winning effort with first-place finishes in the 100-yard dash (10.08), 440 (51.09) and 220 (23.3).

Dwayne Terry posted victories in the two mile (10:04.8) and mile (4:39.3).

Doug Hartman captured the shot put (46-3/4) and discus (139-7). Jim Hall won the 880-yard run (2:03.7) and the mile relay squad was first (3:34.9).

Seconds were taken by Sam

Nesbit in the two mile. Ken Clark in the long jump and triple jump, Dave Brown in the 880, Joe Ward in the 440 and Don Watson in the pole vault.

Earning third places were Scott Hillmer in the 120-yard high hurdles and high jump, Larry Haddix 100, Al Benko long jump, Greg Ahlers 880, Ed Hesseldeuz 330-yard low hurdles, Steve Watson vault, Hall mile run and Tom Boyd, discus.

South's sophomore trackmen lost 64-67, and the freshman Warriors defeated the Kahoks 74-45.

MHS 2nd in track triangular

Trojan Kelvin Boyd earned two firsts and a second, and was anchorman for the 440-yard relay squad's second-place finish to pace Madison High School trackmen to a second place overall finish Monday in a triangular meet.

Host O'Fallon scored 97 points, Madison 44 and Rosana 37.

Boyd captured the 100-yard dash (10.3) and 440 (52.5) and then ran with the 440 relay squad of Joe Young, Lamont Garrett and James Turner (45.5). Boyd took second (24.0) in the 220.

Chris Stanley ran the 120-yard high hurdles in 16.3 to win.

Second-place finishes were by Mike Walker in the two-mile run, Young in the 100 and Willie Shearry in pole vaulting. Trojan third places were earned by Shearry in the high jump, Turner in discus and Mike Walker in the 880-yard run and 330-yard low hurdles.

Girls' district track tourney

Granite City High School South and North will join 15 other high schools Friday, May 10, to compete in the 1974 girls' track and field district meet at Cahokia.

The top two finishers in each of 15 events, plus athletes who place no less than fifth or meet qualifying standards, will advance to the state finals on May 17-18 at Charleston.

Those assigned to the Cahokia meet, other than South and North, are Alton, Marquette of Alton, Belleville Alhott, East and West, Cahokia, Columbia, Duplo, Edwardsville, St. Paul of Highland, O'Fallon, Triad, Wesclin of Trenton, Valmeyer and Wood River.

Mercer to defend Inter-City League title starting Sunday

Defending Illinois Inter-City League baseball champion Mercer Funeral Home will help kick off the league's 1974 season when it meets Highland-Pierson at 2 p.m. Sunday at Pierson.

League President Ollie H. Miller said that with the dropping out of St. Mary's of Madison, Glen Carbon and Roxana, the league has welcomed back the Panama, Ill., and Livingston, Ill., teams.

Both squads were members of the league from 1936 to 1941 and after a short absence played again in 1946.

NORTH VS. SOUTH. Steeler Jeff Reiter gets the first hit at Wilson Park in the first meeting of the two Granite City High School varsity baseball teams. The Warriors of South captured both ends of a double-header, 4-3 and 8-5. First baseman (23) is Warrior Mike Stanton. (Press-Record Photo)

The league again is divided into two divisions, red and blue. Comprising the red division are the Troy Red Birds, Collinsville's Motor Motors, Highland-Pierson and Mercer. Blue division teams are East Alton Vap's, the Piassa (Ill.) Indians, Panama and the Livingston Blue Seals.

Wendell Corey, beginning his fourth year as manager of the "Mercer nine, told the Press-Record that with 10 players from last year's championship team back on the roster, "the new season promises to be very rewarding."

Returning are Steve Schardan, third baseman, Rich Schardan shortstop, Pat Harris pitcher, Vic Reznack pitcher, Larry Corey first baseman, Dave Huddleston centerfielder, Jim Greenwald outfielder, Bill Campbell catcher, Bob Scott, outfielder, and Mark Boone, pitcher and outfielder.

The Granite City team will play its home games at Wilson Park.

Campbell fifth

The Dale Campbell Insurance Agency slowpitch softball squad of Granite City captured fifth place during the weekend in a 26-team "double-elimination" meet at Manchester, Mo.

Campbell's defeated its first round foe and then whitewashed Aster. Pavers, defending Missouri state champions, 16-6.

Granite City then dropped into consolation competition after a 10-7 defeat by McDonald.

The local nine was the last Illinois team to depart from the tournament, losing 9-7 to Astec in the fourth round.

Jerseyville wins

Granite City North golfers dropped a 180-163 decision at Jerseyville Tuesday on the front nine holes, par 35.

Top Steelers were Tom Bohrens 43, David Dodson 44, Gary Baker 47 and Rich Bohnenstiel, 51.

Cycle champions to race here Saturday

An all-star cast which includes some of the nation's top motorcycle racers, headed by national champion Kenny Roberts of California and two-time Tri-City Speedway champion Robert E. Lee of Texas, will visit the local track Saturday to compete in the first annual "Spring Classic of Racing."

The competition will help kick off the 1974 Midwest championship trail for American Motorcycle Association riders.

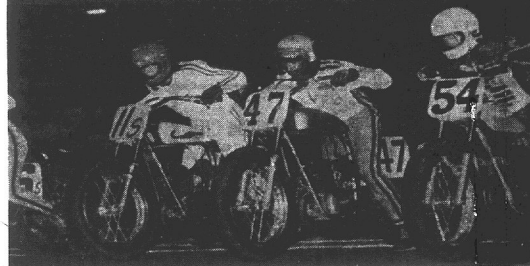

Roberts captured the national title last year and is currently leading national point standings over second-place Dave Hansen and Louisiana's Mike Gerald.

Lee first won the local speedway title in 1972. He then recovered from injuries which sidelined him throughout the first half of the 1973 season to claim the crown again.

Gene Reed, promoter of the event, told the Press-Record "In addition to the national racing events, a special 15-lap 'race of champions' will be held on the quarter-mile oval for riders who have won feature races at Tri-City Speedway within the past three years."

Those who will compete in the special race include Gerald, Lee, Mike Kidd of Texas, Randy Clerk of Oklahoma, three-time champion Neil Keen of St. Louis, Charlie Chapple of Michigan, Billy O'Brien of Chicago, Al Steele of Wood River and Charles Seale of Florida.

Time trials for the program will begin at 7 p.m. Saturday and racing is to start at 8 p.m. Tickets can be purchased at the gate for $3 for adults and for those 12 and older. Children under 12 will be admitted free.

DEFENDING MOTORCYCLE CHAMPION Robert E. Lee (54) of Fort Worth, Texas, will head a field of American Motorcycle Association national riders here Saturday in the first annual "Spring Classic of Racing." Two of many racers who will appear with Lee are (11 S) William Boyd of Farmer City, Ill., and (47) Charles Seale of Lantana, Fla.

Warrior nine again derails East express

"They were number one in the area," comments Warrior Coach Conrad Champion, "and we take great pride in having dumped them twice within one week."

The GCHS South baseball mentor made the comment after his squad defeated Belleville East 9-3 Monday at Wilson Park. Last week, with a 13-1 record, the Lancers were beaten 2-1 by South and Warrior Pitcher Ray Smith. Smith also pitched the full seven innings Monday. He allowed six enemy hits while striking out five and walking four. South's record improved to 8-1 overall and 3-7 in Southwestern Conference play.

East jumped to a 3-0 lead in the opening inning and then was stunned by South's seven-run second.

Mike Gagic and Dennis Solberger singled before Smith hit a three-run homer to centerfield.

The fired-up Warriors took advantage of three of the enemy's five errors in the game to set up four more runs.

Mike Martinez reached base on a dropped infield fly, and Jim Kafka reached as the third baseman fumbled his grounder.

Both scored on a double to left by Mike Stanton.

Stanton went home safely when East threw past first on Greg Linhart's hit.

Linhart went to second on the throw and Gary Hiller singled him across.

South added runs in the third and fourth on hits by Solberger, Dave Dombek and Stanton.

Stanton, Dombek and Solberger each totaled two hits. South played a flawless game, while Belleville committed five errors.

Warrior golfers top Collinsville

Warrior Don Gresco scored a three-over-par 39 yesterday at Arlington Heights Golf Course to lead GCHS South to a 204-244 victory over Collinsville.

He was followed by Bill Skirball with 40, Ron Motil 41, Mark Harbison 41 and Brad Bickhaus 43.

Other South golfers were Don Gresco 39, Mark Harbison 40, Ron Motil 40 and Chris Louis, 40.

South golf win

Warrior Bill Skirball had a two-over-par 38 Monday on the front nine holes at the Arlington Heights golf course to help lead GCHS South to a 197-203 victory over visiting Belleville East.

Other South golfers were Don Gresco 39, Mark Harbison 40, Ron Motil 40 and Chris Louis, 40.

Trojans drop 8-2 contest

Madison High School batters, outbatted Litchfield 8-2 Tuesday but, the Trojans lost 8-2 to the host school. Both teams made four errors.

Led by the .355 batting average of Algie Crawford, Madison scored in the opening inning. Crawford reached base on an infield error, advanced on Jon Henke's hit and scored when the catcher threw the ball away in an attempt to pick him off second base.

Litchfield tied the game in the second and added two each in the third and fourth innings and three in the sixth.

Madison left four men stranded in the second, third and fifth.

Sophomore Joe Gulash, seeing action in his first varsity game, singled in the seventh, advanced on an error, stole third and went home on a sacrifice fly by Steve McCunney.

Winning pitcher Jim Ode struck out the next two batters to end the game.

Trojan hits included three by McCunney and one each by Cedric Wilson and Mike Stanley.

Croatian team 27th among 180

The Madison Croatian Home's Fraternal Union Bowling Team No. 2 placed 27th with a four-game handicap score of 4150 in a 180-team annual team bowling tournament held at Gillespie during the weekend.

Grante City Dan Naglich set the pace for the team by capturing the first three-game handicap with a score of 719 and with a seventh-place finish in handicap high single game at 270.

Other members who completed were Joe Gudac, Andy Modrusic, Rick Sbabo, Al Hudzik and Frank Derner Jr., all of Madison.

Schleicher, Watson win track events

Sophomore trackmen of GCHS South earned 25 points Tuesday to tie Belleville East for fourth place in the latter's sophomore invitational. GCHS North was fifth with 17 points.

East St. Louis captured the meet with 58 points, Alton had 50 and Belleville West 35.

First places earned by the two local schools were: Larry Schleicher (GCHS) in the 800-yard run (2:03) and Steve Watson (GCHS) in the pole vault (12-6).

South tennis win

Warrior netmen boosted their season record to 7-9 yesterday at Collinsville by defeating the host school 4-1.

GCHS South starters were John Bruch 6-1, 6-0, Frank Faulkner 6-1, 6-3, Mike Papes 6-3, 6-3, Bill Berger and Gary Osborn 6-4, 3-6 loss and Steve McCluskey and Alan Davenport 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

Greenwald homer aids Cougar win

The double play is the pitcher's friend. And StUB hurlers had the use of 34 so far this season as the Cougars have built a 20-8 record, including a twinnish split Monday with the Arkansas State University Indians, 6-0 and 2-4.

In the leadoff game, 6-4 righthander, the STUE defense turned three double plays. It was Nick Balt's tie victory to go with two losses.

The winningest pitcher, Steve Earnhart, then was charged with his second loss in eight games and the Cougars turned just one double play.

Helping Balt in the fourth, Jim Greenwald powered the ball deep over the leftfield fence with two strikes on base. It was the Granite City native's fourth homer of the campaign. In the eighth, Stu Track clobbered a first pitch well over the 420-foot mark for his third homer of the season and the team's 22nd.

Business Women's Club wins state awards

Three top state awards were attained by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club at the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs (IFBPWC) convention which concluded this week at the Chase Park Plaza Hotel, St. Louis.

The state awards were achieved for "Best Club Program," "Best Legislation Program" and "Best Public Relations Program" for 1973-74.

Nineteen local BPW members serving as delegates to the 53rd annual state meeting enthusiastically greeted the announcement of their club's achievement when the contest results were disclosed at an awards dinner in the Khorassan Room.

Accepting the awards were Mrs. Lil Marzful, president, Mrs. Rosemary Bastedon, program chairman, Mrs. Edna Kohlbrecher, legislative chairman and Mrs. Pauline Weir, public relations chairman.

A total of 925 delegates, alternates and guests attending the three-day conference represented 166 club in 17 districts of the Illinois BPW federation.

The Granite City club, together with 30 other Illinois

BPW groups, received national and state honors in the areas of membership for attaining equalization before last Sept. 30, and in foundation through contributions per member to the National BPW Foundation.

The awards were presented by Mrs. Maxine Hays of Junction City, Ore., National BPW first vice-president, and Mrs. Violet Davis of Casey, Illinois state president. Mrs. Shirley Adams and Mrs. Mary Batson are local membership and foundation chairmen, respectively.

In the "Speak-Off" contest, Mrs. Adams representing District 14 placed second and will serve as alternacandidate to the national convention in July at Chicago. Actions proposed and endorsed at the state conference include:

"Actively work for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) by the Illinois General Assembly; work for and support the appointment and/or election of women to policy making positions; work for passage of legislation establishing and funding a commission to study the need for day care centers in Illinois.

"Actively advocate passage of legislation providing additional funds to the Fair Employment Practices Commission to enable the group expedite the settlement of cases involving employment practices of discrimination; and support the enactment of an Illinois law to observe the Feb. 15 anniversary of Susan B. Anthony's birthday as a holiday."

The conference heard the Hon. Shirley Chisholm, first black congresswoman in the United States, urge BPW members to "seek legislative and public offices at the city, county, state and national levels" and to continue working toward ratification of the ERA bill.

Rep. Chisholm also advocated greater efforts in such areas as better education for women, "by developing one's potential and establishing a goal from which one will not be deterred."

Sydney J. Harris, reporter and feature writer for the Chicago Daily News since 1941, spoke on the topic "Search for Values in an Affluent Society."

Harris said the basis of communication is a "shared feeling," noting that too often what a person thinks as communication is simply information.

"We usually fall into one of four categories as communicators," Harris said, "talking at, talking to, talking past and talking down to people."

New state officers were installed by Mrs. Hays. They are: Miss Kay Howell, Skokie, Ill., president; Mrs. Catherine Burton, Collinsville, president-elect; Miss Yvonne M. Hirsch, Tinley Park, first vice-president; Miss M. Fidello Doolin, Carbondale, second vice-president; Miss Lucille Ann Schott, Chicago, recording secretary; Miss Wanda Nelson, Decatur, treasurer; and Mrs. Marge Carnaghi, Joliet, nominations chairman.

Appointed by Miss Howell to serve on the state finance committee was Mrs. Pauline Weir of Granite City.

Attending the convention from the Granite City club were Annellen Smith, Sandra Tadlock, Emylee Alford, Gladys Newman, Marjorie Lambert, Geraldine Brandley, Genevieve Haddix, Sylvia Wright, Ruth Walk, Ruth Milhouser, Louise Lewis, Lorene Sadrakula, Verna Lengyel and those mentioned previously.

MISS LINDA VAUGHN, the fiancée of Denny G. Hill. Their engagement is being announced by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Prince R. Vaughn, 203 Kerr St., Venice. Plans are being made for an Oct. 26 wedding.

Hill-Vaughn betrothal announced

Mr. and Mrs. Prince R. Vaughn, 203 Kerr St., Venice, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Linda S. Vaughn, to Denny G. Hill. The prospective bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hill, 603 Jefferson Ave., Venice.

A Venice High School graduate, he presently is employed at Cerro Copper Co., in Saugeit, Ill. Miss Vaughn currently is completing her senior year at Venice High School. An Oct. 26 wedding date has been set by the couple.

'Space Race' at Marshall School

Cub Pack 17, sponsored by Marshall School PTA, conducted a space race derby at its April meeting held in the school gymnasium. Winning cubs were Rick Williams, Phil Johnson, Leon Bugg and Sam Givens. Also participating were Ken Wilson, James Livingston, Bill Schreiber, Tom Gann and Mrs. Joyce Wilson.

The Webelos led by Mrs. Wilson opened the meeting. Bill Johnson, cubmaster, announced a pinewood derby will be held in May. He presented Mrs. Shirley Gann, Den 1 leader, with the "cubby" award for recording the best attendance. Mrs. Carlene Givens, advancement chairman, presented awards to the following boys: Leon Bugg and Tommy Gann, Wolf badge; Curtis Gaines, two-year service pin; and Kenneth Wilson, outdoorsman and scientist activity badges. In a special ceremony, David Wilson, committee chairman, presented his son, Kenneth, with the Arrow of Light Award and a Cub Scout graduation certificate. The youth will enter the Boy Scouts next month.

HOUSE BURGLARY

A radio, a color television and a .38 caliber pistol were taken from the home of William Clinton, 1974 Second St., Madison, shortly before midnight Tuesday. A member of the family reported that four boys who appeared to be between 12 and 15 years old ran from the house as he pulled into the driveway.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL

Betty Johnson, 22, of 144 Big Four Place, Mitchell, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday for injuries she suffered in an auto accident the previous day. She was treated for an injury to her right foot and was released.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith have returned from Camden, Ark., where they were guests of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Briner and daughter, Wendy.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Falter Sr. were guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Dillman of Dongola, Ill.

Mrs. Sharon Wright of Breckenridge Lane was the honor guest at a cradle shower Sunday in the home of her mother on Park Lane. Her sister, Jeannie, and Mrs. Ruth Richardson were co-hostesses. Games were played and prizes were given.

The guest list included her mother, Mrs. Betty Snider, her mother-in-law, Mrs. Samatha Wright, and her grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Strumski.

Other guests were Denise Snider, Tina Snider, Mrs. Lynn Haversburg and daughter, Sarah, Brenda Walter, Mrs. Peg Barger and Susan, Mrs. Brenda LaBrot and Donna, Tidi and Juanita Spence, Debi Ayers.

Mrs. Mil Ferguson, Jeanne Ferguson, Mrs. Shelia Fasick, Mrs. Shelly Haldeman, Mrs. Lucy Klug, Mrs. Mary Mothershed, Mrs. Ruth Webb, Lani Webb, Mrs. Geri Ritchie, Mrs. Jan Howland, Mrs. Kathy Miller, Mrs. Iris Bonchak, Harriet Saroka, Mrs. Daniel Winkle, Mrs. Kathy Ellis, Mrs. Patty Zaruba, Mrs. Evelyn Moore, Mrs. Nancy Ray, Jackie Mathews, Hilda Ruwisch, Shirley Kerman and Mrs. Fran Cope.

Mr. and Mrs. George Staggs entertained during the weekend for their daughter, Vicki Lynn, on her fifth birthday.

Games were played, with prizes going to Vicki Lynn Gann and Bobby Carpenter.

Refreshments were served by Crystal Staggs and Lucinda Freeman to Royce Morlen, Maureen Doyle, Colleen Pickard, Linda Akeman, Michelle Staggs, Billie Cauble, Patrick Doyle, Bobby and Chad Carpenter, Jeff Freeman, Kevin Pickard, Daria Staggs and Vicki Lynn Gann.

Mrs. Pat Dorch underwent major surgery at St. Elizabeth Hospital. She resides in Collinsville, and is formerly of Granite City.

YOUNG ADULT RALLY

After nightly practice sessions, the youth and young adults of Cedar View General Baptist Church hosted a "soo shine" rally during the weekend.

Presenting special music were a young group called His Children, and the youth choir of Mt. Zion General Baptist Church directed by Herbert Camren and Mrs. Alma Berong.

Devotions were given by Bill Patterson of the Faith Chapel and a talk was presented by Rita Hefner of New Hope Church.

The service concluded with a day by the youth and adults of Cedar View entitled "The Rapture." It was directed by Mrs. Bob Asbeck and Jim Potter. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

WOMEN'S CONVENTION

Ladies of Cedar View General Baptist Church attended an annual one-day convention in Spanish Lake, Mo., during the weekend. Theme was "The Worth of a Righteous Woman." Mrs. Judy Clanton of Poplar Bluff, Mo., was present to represent the General Baptist women's board and to report on the missions program.

Luncheon was served to ladies of Ill-Mo Association churches, with ministers and visitors present.

Those attending from here were Mrs. Gladys Crump, Mrs. Louise Stallings, Mrs. Jewel Black, Mrs. Christine Williams and Mrs. Pat Dickerson.

House tour here Sunday

A flea market and craft show set up in a Ralston-Purins tent, located in the side yard of a display home at 2237 Cleveland Blvd., will be among the highlights of the first house tour sponsored by the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society from 1 to 5 p.m., Sunday, according to Walt Padgett, society president.

Tickets are available in advance costing $1.50 each, or may be purchased Sunday for $2 each at any of the tour homes. Residents may obtain tickets by calling Dick Melton, at 877-4357.

Five dwellings and a church are included in the tour itinerary. They are the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mathis, 2325 Cleveland Blvd.; Dr. and Mrs. James Byers, 2317 Cleveland Blvd.; Mr. and Mrs. David Hug, 2357 Cleveland Blvd.; Mr. and Mrs. Bob MacLaughlin, 2218 Cleveland Blvd.; and Mr. and Mrs. Walt Padgett, 2218 Delmar Ave.

St. Peter Evangelical United Church, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard, also is listed.

Featured at the tent site will be original paintings by seven artists from the Artist Boutique, a St. Louis artist's guild, antique furniture and a variety of small craft items, Padgett said.

Nameoki Methodist Women plan show

The Lydia Circle met at the Nameoki United Methodist Church last week to discuss plans to participate in a bridal fashion show, to be given at the church at 7:30 p.m. May 13 by the United Methodist Women.

Mrs. Mary Bailey opened the meeting with prayer and the business session was conducted by chairman, Mrs. Virgie Backs.

The group reviewed its weekly visit to the Colonial Haven Nursing Home, where members assist in programs of interest to the patients.

Deviations were presented by Gladys Russell. She used scripture references taken from the Books of John and Luke and an article, entitled "A Touch of the Master's Hand," as her subject.

Others present were Mesdames Marian Whittaker, Mildred Hess, Lucille Webb, Helen Metcalf, Viola Thornberry, Marie Long, Violet Miller, Ethel Seymour, Jessie Sayers, Effie Yrenick, Ruth Bailey, Dorothy Wallace and a guest, Mrs. Luan Briner.

President of the United Methodist Women.

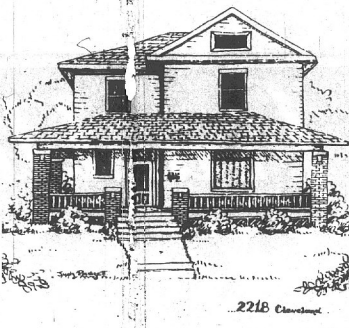

The May 16 meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Mary Bailey, 2246 Lynch Ave.

Services today for C. G. Spanholtz

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p.m. today at an Edwardsville funeral home for Charles G. Spanholtz, 67, of 714 N. Main St., Edwardsville, a retired employee of the Granite City Army Installation.

Mr. Spanholtz died Monday at the John Cochran Veterans Hospital, St. Louis. Survivors include three brothers and two sisters.

HURT IN CRASH
Naomi Randall, 57, of 2308 Terminal Ave., was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 10:15 p.m. Tuesday after her forehead struck an auto windshield during an accident. She suffered injuries to her forehead and hematoma to her chin. X-rays were taken and she was released.

UNUSUAL FEATURES in the eight-room dwelling owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bob MacLaughlin at 2218 Cleveland Blvd., include an attractive corner fireplace. The house was designed and built by Charles Pauly, architect, in 1906 and may be inspected from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday during the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society's house tour. Central Baptist hosts revival

Pete Rice, horse breeder and trainer for the Bill Rice Ranch in Murfreesboro, Tenn., will be the featured speaker at revival meetings starting Monday evening and continuing through May 12 at Central Baptist Church, 3910 Highway 111, Pontoon Beach, it was announced by the pastor, the Rev. John Lamb.

Evangelist Rice is a graduate of the Tennessee Temple Schools, Chattanooga, Tenn., and has traveled extensively throughout the world.

His father, Bill Rice, is director of the Bill Rice Ranch, a summer encampment for hearing and non-hearing youth. Last year, a total of 7,728 young people attended camp at the ranch, which is the largest Christian Deaf Ministry in the world.

The Rev. Lamb said services will be held at 7:30 each evening and a nursery will be available for young children. There is ample parking space on the church grounds, he added.

Pre-wedding party for Miss Stacy

Miss Kathy Stacey, May bride-elect, was honored at a pre-wedding party given at her home in Edwardsville. Wedding bells and pastel colored streamers decorated the dining room and matching colors were used in the table appointments. Individual favors were presented to each guest.

BPW investment club to continue program

An investment group, part of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club program, will continue to function and attempt to expand its membership. It was formed during a meeting this week at the Round Table Restaurant, Collinsville.

New members will be accepted from the local BPW club and quarterly meetings are planned, with the next scheduled for 8:30 p.m. June 12 at the Round Table Restaurant.

Officers elected by the group were Mrs. Ruth Milner, chairman; Miss Annette Smith, secretary; and Mrs. Ruth Walk, treasurer. Others at the dinner session were Genevieve Grady, Vern Lengyel, Ann Hordecky, Edith Schwab, Maxine Epler, Pauline Weir, Rosemary Basenden, Lorene Sadr, Kula, Sunshine Scruggs, Becky Slate and Dolores Allen.

Education is forever, Homemakers conclude

Marjorie Sohn, University of Illinois clothing specialist, presented the highlight of the Madison County Homemakers Extension Association's 19th annual meeting for 325 members and guests of the 32 county units on Tuesday.

Her program featured a spring fashion show emphasizing color, line, design and accessories as they relate to body size, height and age. Sixteen HEA members served as models.

"Education is Forever" was the theme for the day's activities. Opening the morning portion of the program was the county president, Mrs. Robert Brave of Granite City.

A welcome was offered by Mrs. Richard Adams, South Central District chairman, and Dr. Warren Joseph, SUH Assistant vice president. The Rev. Russell Wigfield, campus Presbyterian minister, gave the invocation.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Clarence Oberdunemann, accompanied by Mrs. N. G. Perrine. Mrs. Louvain Vieth directed the members and guests in the pledge of allegiance.

Mrs. James Early reviewed the 1973 annual meeting. Mrs. Clifford Stahlhut, county second vice president, gave the membership report, and a budget was presented by Mrs. Carl Baumann, treasurer.

Past presidents introduced included Mesdames Wilbur Hendricks, Guy DeChiara, Clara Long, Clyde Lebeque and Orville Plocher.

Reports on Extension activities during the 1973 year were given by Advisers Catherine Mauck, Darlene Heer and Janet Mueller. Program Assistant Ola Vee Nix told of progress of the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program in the Quad-City area.

Mrs. Clifford Stahlhut presented a slate of officers for election: Mrs. Mildred Dresh, Alhambra — president; Mrs. James Early, New Douglas — first vice president; Mrs. Richard Adams, Troy — secretary; Mrs. Vernon Mindrup, Alhambra — cultural arts chairman; Mrs. Gilbert Hosto, Alhambra — international; Mrs. Richard Wilson, Highland — public information; and Mrs. Rudy Becker, Moro — 4-H.

To enforce dumping law

Paul Hawkins, Madison County environmental control official, this week urged Quad-City area citizens to join in an effort to halt illegal dumping in the unincorporated areas.

Hawkins cited extensive dumping along Old Alton Road from the 4300 block north to Maryville Road and dumping in the Mitchell and Pontoon Beach areas, and along Slough Road, saying ordinances provide fines of up to $500 for illegal dumping and much of the dumping can be stopped.

He asked anyone who sees illegal dumping occurring to try and obtain a license number of a vehicle involved and report the violation immediately to his office.

He also said that if any of the dumped material, such as cancelled checks or papers, contains a person's name who may be responsible, that the name be given to him in the Madison County Sanitation Department.

He reminded residents that the trash, whether taken away by the township highway departments or his department, costs taxpayers money to remove and pledged strict enforcement of the dumping laws and prosecution of anyone caught dumping illegally.

Air Force group to meet

The Air Force Association's Illinois state convention and Great Lakes Region vice-president's meeting will be held in Belleville on May 17-18.

APA's Scott Memorial Chapter is host for the convention, which will be held at the Ramada Inn, 1234 Centreville Ave. An estimated 500 persons are expected to participate in the two-day event.

Charles W. Harris of Belleville, president of the Scott Chapter, said key APA officials from Illinois, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin — which make up the Great Lakes Region — will participate in the convention as well as delegates from chapters throughout Illinois. Representatives from APA national headquarters in Washington, D.C., also will attend.

Registration will be held on May 17 with the St. Louis and Chicago baseball game on tab for interested conventioners. A full day's program is scheduled on Saturday, May 18, including a business meeting, aerospace briefings, ladies luncheon and style show and an evening banquet.

Air Force Association is a national nonprofit organization with no personal, political, or commercial interests. It publishes Air Force Magazine, the largest aerospace magazine.

in the free world, and currently has more than 115,000 members, including both active duty personnel and civilians. Local support of Scott Air Force Base and its personnel is provided by the Scott Memorial Chapter, which is one of more than 200 APA chapters across the country.

Give special van to Victim Missionaries

There will be a welcome surprise for members of the Victim Missionaries when they celebrate their 10th anniversary at the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows near Belleville Saturday. A specially-designed van to transport the handicapped will be presented as a gift from the Teamsters Charitable Foundation.

The Victim Missionaries is an organization of people who are handicapped. They have joined together under the guidance of Father John Maronic to help others in similar circumstances cope with their afflictions.

The membership now totals 6,000 persons, with a new unit being activated in Cincinnati on the 10th anniversary date.

Festivities will begin Saturday with a 10:30 a.m. Mass to be celebrated at the outdoor altar by Bishop Albert R. Zurowiste. Five hundred people are expected to attend from many states. Presentation of the van will be at 1 p.m.

Chapters are now established in the Belleville-St. Louis Area, Alton, Ill., Omaha, Neb., New Orleans, La., Owensboro, Ky., Detroit, Flint and Saginaw, Mich., and Harrisburg, Pa. A regular meeting of the group is held monthly at Our Lady of the Snows.

Hearing tomorrow on water purity

A public hearing on the state's proposed plans for fighting water pollution during the fiscal year beginning July 1 will be held tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

Citizens who wish to do so will be permitted to comment on the preliminary water pollution control plans, according to Richard H. Briceland, Illinois EPA director.

A similar hearing will be held Saturday at 9:30 a.m. at the A. L. Bowen Administration Center Building in Harrisburg. Hearings were held yesterday in Chicago and Peoria.

Briceland said that final plans will not be completed until June and that testimony obtained in the hearings will be used to finalize the planning.

Eberwine to retire from air force

LT. Col. James F. Eberwine of Granite City, adjunct professor of aerospace studies and commanding officer of Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps Detachment 206 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, announced this week that he plans to retire July 1 from active duty with the Air Force.

Col. Eberwine, who recently was admitted to practice before the Interstate Commerce Commission, indicated his future plans are indefinite.

The AFROTC commanding officer and approximately one-fifth of the 90-member Air Force detachment at SIUE were honored during the weekend at the annual Dining, In and Awards Ceremony of the unit. The ceremonies were held at the Scott Air Force Base Officers Club, Belleville.

George K. Mellott, principal speaker at the Dining-In and Awards Ceremony, drew from his 10 years of flying experiences with the Air Force and the Air National Guard to back up his "strong belief in the ROTC program." Mellott is an associate professor of music at SIUE and a major with the 170th Tactical Fighter Squadron of the Illinois Air National Guard, based at Springfield.

Others who joined Mellott in honoring the ROTC and the officers and cadets of the detachment at SIUE included Andrew J. Kochman, SIUE vice-president and provost, and Ramon N. Williamson, SIUE vice-president for student affairs. Kochman brought the greetings and best wishes of the SIUE administration in recognition of a job well done and Williamson cited the SIUE detachment as "the superior ROTC unit in the entire State of Illinois."

All of the speakers gave special tributes to Col. Eberwine, who has been commanding officer of the SIUE detachment since June, 1970.

Among a series of awards presented during the program were Distinguished GMC awards to Cadet Staff Sergeant Susan L. Sackett and Cadet Staff Sergeant Jeffery to Beyer, both of Granite City.

Col. Eberwine, who resides with his wife and four daughters at 25 Arlington Drive, Granite City, is a native of Coshocton, Ohio. A transportation officer, he has held several commands in the Air Force, and his 21-year tour of duty includes three tours overseas.

In addition to his ICC practitioner's certificate, he has a B.S. degree from Ohio State University and a M.S. from the University of Tenn.

Homicide ruling

A verdict of homicide was reached by a jury in the death of Mrs. Sadie Elizabeth McGee, 57, owner and operator of the Why Not Tavern and Cafe, 2006 Hildebrand St., Cloverleaf Addition. She had been stabbed several times.

She was found fatally wounded behind the cafe counter by deputies March 20. An autopsy report listed a massive chest hemorrhage with secondary strangulation because of a bronchial hemorrhage. A chest stab wound cut a pulmonary artery.

John Allen Woods, 23, St. Ann, was arrested on a murder charge March 22.

Re-elect GC park officers

All officers and administrators of the Granite City Park District were retained in their posts at the district's annual reorganization meeting last night.

Re-elected by acclamation were: Henry Gabriel, president; Barry Loman, vice president; Frank R. Rea, secretary; John Mink, treasurer; and Randall Robertson, attorney.

The board also voted to retain Harold Brown as director of parks and recreation and increased his salary from $14,020 to $15,220 per year.

Michael Jessee was kept as recreation director with his annual salary raised from $8,900 to $9,350.

The secretary's salary was increased from $4,035 to $4,300, the treasurer from $2,840 to $3,000 and the attorney from $3,395 to $3,650.

The board voted to close the Wilson Park Swimming Pool this season at 8 p.m., one hour earlier than in previous years.

Brown was authorized to enlist a firm or individuals to provide fireworks at Wilson Park on the Fourth of July. The firm which previously prepared and presented the fireworks did not offer a bid this year, board members were told.

The board also voted to purchase a full membership in the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Maria Debeve dies

Miss Maria (Mimi) Debeve, 70, of 2600 W. 5th Ave., Gary, Ind., a former local resident, died Wednesday at St. Mary Mercy Hospital in Gary.

Miss Debeve was a registered nurse employed in private service. She was born in Yugoslavia.

She lived in Granite City 14 years prior to moving to Gary 12 years ago. While here she was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Miss Debeve is survived by two brothers, Vincent Debeve of Granite City and Leo Debeve of Germany.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Open verdict

An open verdict was returned by a coroner's jury in the death of Richard Dale Renaud Sr., 44, of 1828 Spring Ave., at an inquest conducted by Edward Werner, Madison County deputy coroner.

An autopsy report said Mr. Renaud apparently suffered a heart attack. He was found dead beside his auto in the garage of his home March 31.

Cab driver robbed

Mark A. Rulo, a Yellow Cab driver reported to police at 2:45 a.m. today that he was robbed in the parking lot next to Ralph and Charlie's Restaurant, 1431 Fourth St., Madison. A woman came over to the cab, acted like a customer, got into the cab, drew a .38 caliber pistol and robbed him of $30.

Seek anti-disaster bill aimed at chemical spills

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., May 2, 1974 Page 15

In response to Chicago's weekend scare from a bulk chemical tank leak that spread acid mist over a large sector of the city's far South Side, Attorney General William J. Scott and State Senator James F. Bell (R., Joliet) have teamed up to introduce anti-disaster legislation aimed at toxic chemicals and other hazardous substances.

Basically, Scott said, the bill to be introduced by Sen. Bell requires those who manufacture, process or transport potentially dangerous chemicals to file that information with the state Environmental Protection Agency, along with antidotes and emergency procedures to be used in the event of a major spillage or leak anywhere in the state.

Sen. Bell introduced such legislation (S.B. 1143) at Scott's request last year but the measure was killed by tabling in committee on July 2, in the final hours of the overtime legislative session.

Both Scott and Sen. Bell noted that when the bill was introduced last year, Chicago had just undergone another near-panic situation when leaking sulphur monochloride — a primary ingredient of warfare mustard gas — sped from storage tanks at the D.A. Stuart Oil Co. plant on Chicago's West Side and local officials were forced to call Washington in the middle of the night to frantically seek a remedy or antidote.

Scott said that the state has been plagued in the last several years with mishaps in which railroad tank cars, transport trucks, and industrial plants — through major spillages and leakage of dangerous chemicals — have caused panic alerts and evacuations in many areas of Illinois. He said:

"Almost every major hospital in the state has a Poison Control center to deal with this problem when it happens in the home. It's incredible to think that the State of Illinois has not dealt with this threat from the standpoint of whole populations — large and small — who can be suddenly exposed to this kind of peril without knowing what the chemical is or how to neutralize it."

Scott said that the bill submitted by Sen. Bell should be considered "emergency" legislation because "events have again proved that the legislation is urgently needed."

Rock concerts at SIUE

Four rock concerts will be presented this spring at the Outdoor Performing Arts Facility (the Mississippi River Festival site) of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

All concerts will begin at 8:30 p.m. with a ticket price of $3.50. Tickets will be sold as general admission only, and there will be free parking at all concerts. On May 10 the rock group "Mountain" will perform with special guest artists the "Sharks," and on May 18, "Earth, Wind and Fire" with special guest artists "The Montclairs."

On May 25, "Three Dog Air Force assigns recruiter here"

The United States Air Force Recruiting Service has assigned Staff Sgt. George W. Habbert as a full time recruiter to the Quad-City area.

The Air Force recruiting office is located at 1204 Niedringhaus Ave.

The telephone number is 876-5225. Office hours are Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m. to noon. Young men and women interested in learning of Air Force opportunities may contact Sgt. Habbert, who came here from Charleston AFB, S.C.

Car overturns, driver injured

Miss Bonnie Meyer, 18, of Glen Carbon, was injured when her auto went out of control on Route 162 about one-fourth mile east of State Aid Route 35 at 9:25 p.m. Monday, left the highway and overturned several times. Witnesses said Miss Meyer's eastbound auto was passing another car on Route 162 when she lost control and the auto skidded into the westbound lane and then into a field.

Miss Meyer was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was admitted with multiple cuts and abrasions.

THOMAS DONAHUE

Donahue Grant City manager

Thomas Donahue has assumed the duties of manager at Grant City in the Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

Donahue replaces Melvin L. Gillie who retired last month and moved with his family to Utah.

Donahue was transferred here from Sterling Heights, Mich., where he was the store manager. During his 14 years with the Grant organization he spent two and a half years in the New York office as display manager.

He and his wife, Mary Theresa, have seven children. Plans call for the family to move here in late June after their school is finished.

Formerly active in the Knights of Columbus, Donahue enjoys bowling and golf.

Firefly search again this year

The fourteenth annual collection of fireflies by the Sigma Firefly Scientists Club will begin shortly.

Fireflies are a source of rare chemicals known to research scientists and chemists as the substrate, "Luciferin," and the enzyme, "Luciferase." These chemicals are used in medical research for diagnostic purposes and the search for possible cures of human ailments, including cancer.

They are also being used to detect the presence of life on other planets.

Experiments are being conducted all over the world, and a new application is for the detection of water pollution. Bacteria in water supplies can now be detected in four hours; older techniques required 48 hours.

Sigma Chemical Co., a division of Sigma International LTD in St. Louis, is the major source of supply for the chemicals derived from the firefly. It is estimated that millions of fireflies, often called "lightning bugs," are needed for research during the coming year.

Catching fireflies is a simple matter a spokesman said. A net is necessary and one may be made at home inexpensively by attaching a fine mesh cloth to a bent coat hanger. Nets are also available from the club.

Anyone collecting fireflies through the Firefly Scientists Club will be paid weekly according to the quantity of fireflies caught and turned in that week. Payment is made on a sliding scale, with $1 per hundred as the highest rate.

The club can be contacted at 314-771-5765 or P. O. Box 14508, St. Louis 63178.

Strike in 6th day

The six-day old strike of 43 employees of the Colonial Haven Nursing Home, 3900 Starns Ave., continued today with no immediate settlement efforts in sight.

Pickets contend they are members of Local 50 of the Service Employees' International Union, AFL-CIO, while the company contends the strike is illegal because the National Labor Relations Board April 4 dismissed a request from the employees to hold an election to choose a bargaining agent.

Yesterday, the union wrote the company requesting that Colonial Haven submit to federal mediation in the strike. A spokesman for the nursing home said yesterday that federal mediators from the U. S. Conciliation and Mediation Service office in St. Louis have been contacted, but are unable to enter into mediation because of the NLRB ruling that the nursing home employees can not hold an election to select a union.

Four hurt in Rt. 203 crash

Four persons were injured when the autos of Constance Stanley, 40, of 82 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, and Burl C. Harris, 38, of St. Louis, collided head-on on Route 203 about a half-mile north of Bond Road at 4:05 p.m. Tuesday.

The drivers and two of three passengers in the Stanley car were hurt and were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Constance Stanley was admitted to the hospital with head injuries after her head struck the windshield. Victoria Stanley, 3½ years old, was treated for injuries to her head which struck the front seat. Another passenger, Edmond Rivers, 16, of 112 Lee Wright Homes, suffered an injury to his right knee. Both were released following treatment.

Jeffrey Stanley, 17, of 82 Lee Wright Homes, also a passenger, was not injured. Harris was treated for hematoma to his forehead and a shoulder injury and was released following treatment. Harris was charged with improper lane usage after a witness alleged his northbound car crossed the center line and was in the southbound lanes when the accident occurred.

Palovchik heads Evening Kiwanis

Joseph Palovchik, 30 Bermuda Lane, was elected Monday evening as president of the Evening Kiwanis Club. He will take office Sept. 1.

Other new officers elected were Philip Theis, first vice-president; Jack Bridger, second vice-president; Howard Ebertson, the retiring president, treasurer, and Darrell Weible, secretary.

Directors elected were Wilhelm Verschul, William Seebold, Roy H. Feder, Marvin Barnes and Edwin L. Moore. Harold Rudolph, director of the local YMCA, guest speaker, said that he hopes to increase the membership from the present 1,200 to 2,500 in a new membership program. Rudolph also announced that on Saturday, beginning at 8:30 the "Y" will conduct "Operation Face Lift," a paint and cleanup program.

He noted that on May 11 in Busch Stadium, three local teams in the "Y" program will be playing. John Krekovich, local real estate dealer, was introduced as a new member.

Mrs. Vallow ends 21 years service

Mrs. Mayme Vallow, 1712 Second St., Madison, ended 21 years of employment at Friedman's Furniture and Hardware Store at a retirement party given Tuesday by fellow workers and store manager, Jack Friedman.

"She came here in 1952," said Friedman, "was put in charge of housewares in 1962 and had been assistant manager in the store's paint department since 1968."

Mrs. Vallow, he said, "has been a model employee and just like a part of the family."

AUTO IS LOOTED
A citizens' band radio and a tape player were stolen from the auto of Otto Holt, 2441 Bryan Ave., parked in Holt's driveway, it was reported Monday. The right wing vent was forced open to gain entry to the auto.

mediation office said only, "We are in touch with both parties and are kind of monitoring it," but said his office, "is not involved at this time."

A NLRB spokesman yesterday confirmed that the nursing home employees' request for a union election was dismissed as being "premature" after company officials testified they intend to expand the local facilities and add more employees.

The NLRB spokesman said, in light of the anticipated increase in the number of employees, the number which signed petitions calling for an election was not large enough to be representative of what would be the final group of employees. The spokesman also said the NLRB is investigating a charge by the union that nursing home officials allegedly interfered with employees attempts to join the union, interrogated employees concerning their union leanings and promised and granted certain benefits to employees in an attempt to discourage them from unionizing.

He said an investigator has been assigned to that complaint, but no results of his investigation have been released. A union spokesman yesterday said he plans to file charges this week with both the U. S. and the state Equal Employment Opportunity Commissions, charging the nursing home with sex discrimination.

He alleged some men at the facility are paid more as orderlies for doing generally the same work as women nurses' aides, but the orderlies are paid more per hour.

A spokesman for the nursing home emphasized that the 103 patients there are receiving excellent care during the strike and he said rumors that the patients are required to do some of the housekeeping and cooking work are "just not true."

Dawn Biggs, 4, is hospital patient

Dawn Biggs, 4, of 2017 Washington Ave., is reported in satisfactory condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where she has been a patient for the past week. She was struck by a car in the 2000 block of Washington avenue at 3:35 p.m. April 25. The youngster was admitted to the hospital with abrasions to her left cheek and left arm.

7 recovering after surgery

Patients at St. Elizabeth Hospital who have undergone major surgery since Monday: Deborah Fuchs, 2124 Lindell Blvd.; Janie Hurst, 1925 Lynn Ave.; Myrtle Gray, 1911 Sken St.; June Branding, 2439 Lynch Ave.; Charles Percy, 2691 North St.; Joseph Schafer, 305 West Chain of Rocks Road; Ethel Miller, East St. Louis.

YMCA benefit show Saturday

Members of the Performing Arts Training Center Dance Company under the direction of Katherine Dunham, internationally known dance artist, will headline the first annual benefit variety show to be presented Saturday evening by the Tri-Cities Area YMCA, a United Way agency. "Our Gang" will be performed at 8:15 p.m. Saturday in the auditorium at Granite City High School South.

Tickets are available in advance, costing $2 for adults and $1 for students, at the YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave., Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, 1909 Edison Ave., and Mendoza Sporting Goods, 2700 Madison Ave. They also may be obtained at the door before showtime.

The variety extravaganza is being directed by Norma Mendoza and Hank Lamb and is being produced by the YMCA staff in cooperation with the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society and the East Bank Players, the Quad-Cities' theatrical company.

Several outstanding groups will appear in the production, the first such program attempted by the local YMCA. All are performing without fee. The cast includes: The Irish Dancers of East St. Louis, accompanied and directed by Police Captain Cornelius O'Sullivan; The Little Cossacks, directed by Marianna Soric and accompanied by the Balalaki Orchestra directed by the Rev. Vladimir Lecko; Leo Primas and the Mexican Folk Dancers with Jim Segobiano and Connie Becerra. The Marge Salem Dance School, directed by Marge Salem; Happy Strings Tambores, directed by Tom Kelam; Chahok Mound Indian Dancers, directed by Frank Joachimschaler; St. Gregory Armenian Apostolic Dance Group under the leadership of Katherine Varadian; the Eagleaires Kitchen Band, directed by Mrs. Angie Buehler and Mrs. Dunham's Performing Center artists.

McCormick to retire

Robert McCormick, AFL-CIO Community Services director for the past nine years, submitted his retirement resignation Wednesday night at a meeting of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council, AFL-CIO. The community services director is the liaison agent between community interests and organized labor and works as a staff member of the Tri-Cities Area United Way. The present salary of $9,700 annually is part of the United Way budget.

Edwin F. Reiske, president of the Trades and Labor Council, said applications for the community services post are available at his office in the Labor Temple. No deadline has been set on applications. An applicant must be an AFL-CIO union member, Reiske said.

A committee headed by James Arnett of the United Steelworkers Union as chairman, and Thomas Nesbit of Cement Finishers Local 90, as co-chairmen, along with S. T. "Pete" Nasir, executive director of the United Way, and a representative of the Washington office of the AFL-CIO Community Services national staff, will screen applicants for the post, Reiske said.

A committee recommendation as to the best qualified candidate will be made to the Trades Council for ratification, he added.

McCormick, who lives at 3132 Aubrey Ave., is a member of the State, County and Municipal Employees Union.

Members of the trades council, after acknowledging the resignation, which was attributed to health reasons, commended McCormick for his past service.

Delegates to the council voted Wednesday night to support an effort by employees of the Colonial Haven Nursing Home to organize as members of Public Service Employees Union Local 50.

The nursing home employees have been picketing the home for the past week in a dispute over recognition of the union by nursing home officials.

The delegates authorized a request to nursing home officials to meet with labor council representatives in an effort to help settle the dispute. The council voted against conducting a Labor Day parade this year.

LOOT REALTY OFFICE

Items valued at about $700 were stolen from the Barton Realty Co. office at 4741 Maryville Road, it was reported yesterday. The front door was pried open. Taken were a telephone answering device, a camera, two radios and a calculator.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., May 2, 1974 Page 19

Goldenhersh denies role

Illinois Supreme Court Justice Joseph H. Goldenhersh this week denied any wrongdoing in connection with leasing of three buildings to the East St. Louis school district for $208,000 while the buildings are assessed at $16,854.

The buildings are being sold under a lease-purchase agreement with Midway Realty and Development Co., in which Goldenhersh has stock, according to reports. The agreement was negotiated in 1957 and the judge said he was representing a client at that time.

Goldenhersh was registered agent for Midway from 1961 to 1967, according to records, but the judge denied he served in that capacity after 1964, when he was elected to the Appellate Court from this district. The former East St. Louis lawyer is a Democrat.

Illinois bill on Council of Governments

A bill has been introduced by defeated Rep. James Krause of East St. Louis in the Illinois House of Representatives to form a 28-member St. Louis area council of governments to supplant the Bi-State Development Agency and to control land use, highway construction, recreational developments and other issues of interest to the bi-state region. Fourteen members would represent each state, but similar legislation would have to be approved by the general assemblies of both states, which is not expected to happen this year.

The Missouri bill died in the spring session due to inaction and a similar fate is being predicted for the Illinois bill.

Slight drop in shared revenue for GC, county

A revised federal revenue sharing distribution formula will mean reductions in the amount of the checks to Madison County and to Granite City, but may mean increased revenue sharing funds for some governmental agencies in the region.

Under the new federal distribution formula, Granite City will receive $445,728 in the 1974-75 fiscal year, down $7,698 from the $453,426 received in this fiscal year.

Madison County's share will decrease from $1,091,729 this year to $1,077,839 in the coming fiscal year, a $13,890 drop. Totals for other governmental bodies have not been released.

Sunday deadline for Elks dinner

Reservations are being accepted through Sunday for the fourth annual "Police Recognition Banquet" to be sponsored by Granite City Elks Lodge 1063 at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 15.

Clyde F. Mertz, Elks law and order committee chairman, said tickets costing $7.50 each may be obtained by calling the Elks lodge at 878-8338. Anthony Michel at 876-1623 or Mertz at 877-8439.

Joseph E. Ziel, special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Springfield office, will be the guest speaker. A cocktail hour at 6:30 will precede the dinner, Mertz said.

While Sheriff Maeras defended auto purchase specifications as having been based on past years' specifications, there were changes, Urban said last night. Past specifications said "air conditioned" while 1974 requests listed "air-conditioning factory-installed" for a luxury auto for the sheriff and "factory air-conditioning" for 17 patrol cars and for 17 other autos used by process servers and detectives, it was asserted.

The difference in wording may have indicated advance awareness that the bidder might settle for locally-installed cooling units on the bulk of the autos purchased, Urban said. Instead of a conceded saving of $26 per car, the successful bidder could have saved $50 to $80 per vehicle on air-conditioning alone and $200 to $400 altogether by the method used, Urban said he has learned by studying the topic and conferring with other auto agencies.

Since oversize radiators and larger fans are involved in factory-installed cooling units, but were listed, separately as well, there may have been much confusion which hampered a number of bidders, it was asserted.

service manpower representative; Darrel Sities, office manager of the employment service and Bill Cady and Jim Bowman, employment service manpower representatives. (Press-Record Photo)

Urban also assailed a requirement that the sheriff's car be a specific make and model, amended to list that model "or equal."

Since the cars obtained have smaller air-conditioning units than would otherwise have been the case and also smaller radiators and fans, there may be excessive wear and repair costs in future years, the GOP nominee said.

It was alleged last night that Sheriff Maeras waited from late February to April 9 before agreeing to suspend a deputy and investigate theft of a test paper from Lewis and Clark Community College.

Urban said Maeras wanted an "official" notification.

But, the nominee alleged, Maeras was directly notified earlier by the college president, the instructor and possibly also by a key deputy, who allegedly was present when a deputy admitted taking advance test information.

Immediate remedial action should have been taken because entering the classroom with the aid of a security guard constituted a burglary under existing state law, Urban said. The reason cited by the deputy, hope of promotion or transfer to the detective staff, make no sense unless there was an understanding with one or the other of two high-ranking deputies, Urban said.

Both men of high rank were in the class, and stories differ on the forwarding of an illicit test data sheet to one of the top officers, was asserted.

Urban denied that the incident was exposed by a high-ranking deputy. It was divulged by a city police officer who contacted the instructor, he said.

Invention by sergeant aids U. S. airplane

Technical Sergeant Terry I. Land, of Granite City, a member of the Missouri Air National Guard, on Monday was awarded $345 under the Missouri National Guard Incentive Awards Program, for suggesting modification of the No. 2 flight control compensator on F-100 aircraft.

The award was presented by Major General Charles M. Kleiner, adjutant general of Missouri. Additional awards at the national level are being considered.

Sgt. Land's suggestion was submitted to the Department of the Air Force in Washington, D. C., in February 1972 and approved in March 1974. The modification has been adopted for all F-100s worldwide.

Land enlisted in the Missouri Air Guard in 1965, and is currently employed as aircraft mechanic crew chief, 131st Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron, Lambert Field.

He, his wife, Alice, and son, Michael, reside at 1406 Norwood Drive.

William Egan dies in West

William Dennis Egan, 62, of Garden Grove, Calif., a former Granite City resident, died at 6 p.m. Wednesday at Veteran's Hospital, Long Beach, Calif.

Mr. Egan was born in Granite City and resided here through the age of 28. He attended St. Joseph's School and Granite City High School.

He was employed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for 23 years as an engineer, technician. Survivors include his wife and daughter.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at St. Columbine's Church in Garden Grove, with burial in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Orange, Calif. He is at Peak Mortuary, Westminster, Calif.

Moore trustee

Willis Moore was approved 34-15 Wednesday by the Illinois Senate as a member of the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees.

He retired last year from the Carbondale campus as a philosophy professor. He won confirmation after a brief debate on his involvement in a 1971 dispute over the Vietnam war.

The vote overruled a Senate Executive Committee 10-5 negative vote last month. Moore had defended a fellow faculty member, Douglas Allen, in a tenure dispute resulting from Allen's campus antiwar activities. Free speech was cited as an issue.

MORE THAN ROUTINE REPAIRS. Technical Sergeant Terry Land inspects an F-100 where his modification of the No. 2 flight control compensator is located. His invention has been adopted for all F-100 aircraft worldwide.

TITLE I PROGRAMS

'Educationally deprived' children are getting help

By MARY LOU MANNING

SPRINGFIELD—Children who are considered "educationally deprived" need not stay that way. If they can qualify, there's help in the form of Title I programs.

The Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, one of President Lyndon Johnson's programs to fight poverty, represented "the largest single commitment by the government to strengthen and improve educational quality and opportunities."

Title I of the act provides federal funds for programs designed to help the educationally deprived child living in low-income areas.

By federal definition, an educationally deprived child is one who needs special educational assistance in order that his level of educational attainment may be raised to that appropriate for children of his age. He may have any one of these characteristics: high failure rate, poor attendance rate, inadequate communication skills or physical handicaps.

The program also includes provisions for funding programs for handicapped children, migrant children and children confined to state homes, institutions and the like.

During the 1972-73 school year, 138,513 Illinois school children participated in Title I programs, according to a report issued by the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Of this number, 5,291 were non-public school students.

(Although non-public schools do not receive Title I funds, educationally deprived children who attend these schools and live in eligible school attendance areas are eligible to participate in public school Title I programs.)

All totaled, 2,427 schools conducted the programs, 1,880 of which were during the regular school term and 538 during the summer term.

How did they identify the children who participated? The methods include: teacher referral, standardized testing, grades, guidance-counselor referral, parental referral and teacher-made tests. Of these, the first two were most prevalent.

What sort of programs were they enrolled in? By far and away, reading programs outranked the others. Approximately 75 percent of those attending regular term programs were enrolled in reading classes while 65 percent of the summer term students were enrolled in them.

All totaled, 506 regular term and 202 summer projects were administered. They included: math, language arts, cultural enrichment, English, English as a second language, industrial arts, home economics and physical education-recreation.

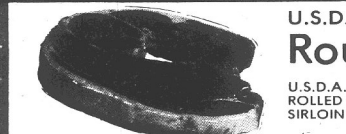

Who administered the program? During the regular term, 53,196 professional staff members were teaching in the programs. For the summer term, they numbered 18,275.

What grade level was most prevalent? The majority fell into the grades one through six category with the largest enrollment between grades one and three. As the students grew older, the number of classes declined.

The following article by Anne DeRuntz, a student at Granite City High School South, is featured in the May issue of "Illinois History," a magazine published for teenagers and sponsored by the Illinois State Historical Society.

Theme of the current issue is transportation in this state.

Miss DeRuntz's article on "Street Cars in Granite City" follows:

Street cars were an important means of transportation in Illinois in the first half of the twentieth century.

The major cities of the state were laced together by miles of cables and track which included many smaller towns along the routes.

The history of street cars in Granite City, Ill., began in 1894 when the St. Louis, Granite City & Alton Traction Company incorporated and chose Granite City as the site of its yards, office and powerhouse.

In 1905 the Illinois Traction Company (McKinley System) with its 300 miles of electric railways was given a franchise by the city council.

According to the franchise, Granite City would be "the terminus of the railway until such time as they shall enter East St. Louis or St. Louis."

This clause was intended to encourage the company to build a bridge across the Mississippi River at Granite City, however, the bridge was built at Venice and opened on Nov. 10, 1910.

It was named McKinley Bridge after W. B. McKinley, one time president of the Illinois Traction Co. and a United States senator from Illinois.

For five cents, a person could ride from Granite City through Madison and Venice across the bridge to St. Louis, where the car went along the river to an underground terminal.

The cars left every hour on the hour (or fifteen).

Although the franchise had set the fare at five cents, the Illinois Traction Co. raised the price to ten cents in 1916.

The Illinois Traction had lines from St. Louis as far north as Danville, on the way, the lines intersected at Springfield.

The Springfield line passed through Granite City, Edwardsville, Staunton, Bend, Gillespie, Carlinville and Girard.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GRANITE CITY,
ILLINOIS:

SECTION 1: That the intersection of Cottage Avenue and Terrace Lane is hereby designated as a stop intersection for traffic on Cottage Avenue pursuant to the provisions of Section 19.233 of the Municipal Code of the City of Granite City, and it shall hereafter be unlawful to drive any easterly bound vehicle on Cottage Avenue into Terrace Lane without first bringing the vehicle to a full stop in compliance with the provisions of said Section 19.233.

SECTION 2: The Superintendent of Streets is hereby authorized and directed to erect a suitable traffic control sign on the southwest corner of said intersection of Cottage Avenue and Terrace Lane in conformity herewith.

SECTION 3: That it is hereby declared unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, or servant, or agent or employee thereof, to drive or operate any vehicle over and across the point specified without first bringing said vehicle to a complete stop and from proceeding until said place is free and clear of all pedestrian traffic or other vehicular traffic.

SECTION 4: Any person, firm or corporation or servant or agent or employee thereof, who shall violate any of the terms or provisions of this Ordinance shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than Five Dollars ($5.00) nor more than Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) for said violation.

SECTION 5: This Ordinance shall take effect and be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and due publication.
PASSED by the City Council of the City of Granite City, Illinois, this 22nd day of April, A.D., 1974.
APPROVED by the Mayor of the City of Granite City, Illinois, this 25th day of April, A.D., 1974.

"Yellow hammer" street cars ran between St. Louis, Granite City and Alton with branches to Mitchell, Edwardsville and Collinsville.

In the local Granite City area, the "yellow hammer" cars carried picnicers to Horseshoe Lake, and it was not unusual to see fishing poles protruding from many windows.

Although street cars supplied a convenient, inexpensive means of transportation, they had their drawbacks.

If the trolley was detached from the overhead cable, the street car would come to a dead stop.

Mischiefous boys would often use land to grease the tracks at the corners where the cars made their stops so that the cars would slide through the intersection.

Not so humorous were the occasions when street cars jumped the tracks, hit pedestrians crossing the tracks, or collided with automobiles, trains or other street cars; all this caused considerable loss of life.

In 1925, buses replaced street cars for some intra-city travel in Granite City.

By 1936, the local street cars had stopped running completely.

Their extinction was due partly to the automobile and partly to the failure of the company to build tracks in new areas of the expanding cities the street cars served.

A return to this type of service is predicted in the future because of the fuel shortages and the acute need for an effective system of mass transit that will be agreeable to the public.

But until then, the clang of the street car trolley system is just a fond memory in the minds of the older citizens.

Seek dog that bit boy, 15

A 15-year-old Granite City boy will have to undergo rabies shots unless a small dog which bit the boy in the 1200 block of Madison Avenue in Madison Sunday morning can be located.

Jeffrey Barr, the son of Mrs. Joyce Smith, 1206 Kirkpatrick, was bitten on the right hand while attempting to help the small dog which had been hit by a car. He said the dog was injured and bleeding.

The dog will have to be located before Wednesday, May 8, or the boy will have to undergo the painful rabies shots.

The dog was described as very small and having smooth hair, possibly brown and black. The injuries sustained by the dog may have been serious and the animal may be dead, it is feared.

Anyone having information as to the location of the animal is asked to contact the humane department of Madison or Granite City, or call Mrs. Smith at 876-1637.

Arch ride hours extended

Beginning yesterday the Gateway Arch Passenger Transportation System is in operation on weekdays from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Saturdays and Sundays from 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. This schedule will run through May 24.

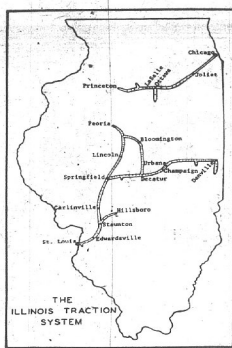

From May 25 through Sept. 2, the Transportation System in the nation's tallest monument will be in operation from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. seven days a week.

Visitors are being reminded that the ride to the top of the Arch requires a minimum round trip time, including viewing, of approximately 20 minutes. Tickets sales will be suspended each evening in time to permit all passengers having tickets to be transported to the top of the Arch prior to the closing.

The Gateway Arch Passenger Transportation System is operated by the Bi-State Development Agency under terms of a 30-year cooperative agreement with the National Park Service.

'Take' has good acting; 'Groove Tube' rubbish

By GENTRY TROTTER
My dictionary was made in 1927, but the meanings are basically the same. I'll use it to describe the motion picture "The Groove Tube."

The word "filthy" means anything that soils or that is foul, dirty or obscene.

The word "sick" means affected with disease, ill or nauseated.

"Overdo" means to exaggerate, as by over-acting. "Catastrophe" means misfortune or mishap.

The word "debris" means ruin and rubbish. "Repulsive" means grossly offensive or forbidding.

"Scorn" means to hold or treat with contempt. "Insane" means irrational.

These eight words are quite befitting for the Ken Shapiro film, "The Groove Tube." Some people in Movieland will do anything to make a buck.

Regarding the film, "The Take," we all realize that the cost of living has gone "way" up. And we realize that some of us must have part-time jobs to make ends meet.

That's reality; however, I am a bit concerned about repetitious stereotyping of law enforcement guys.

Columbia Pictures' "The Take" continues to paint a picture of our guys as hand-grabbing, money-hungry coppers, who spend most of their time wheeling and dealing with the underworld daily, while running to and fro amid the trash cans and the flower pots to get their share of the take.

When it's all over, you wonder who's minding the city of crime perpetrators.

I am not saying that this flick, which is rated PG, doesn't have any sustenance. It does, because there's some good clean entertainment. But I really object to the theme.

Actor Billy Dee Williams plays a flashy dresser and a smooth-talking crime-cross policeman; he brings to the screen reflecting acting skills.

Eddie Albert plays a fool so well, as he did in Green Acres. "The Take" is not an exceptional or excellent picture, but you'll enjoy it. It receives a somewhat "in between" rating of good.

Emphasis on positive side of St. Louis bi-state area can lead to improved quality of life; genuine two-way cooperation still an essential element

Do "St. Louis interests" create a knee-jerk negative response among Quad-Cityans, as is occasionally alleged? We don't think so, but in any case there is considerable, well-justified, favorable and positive communication and contact between the two sides of the Mississippi every hour of every day.

Both the Missouri and Illinois sectors of the St. Louis metropolitan area are blessed by the existence of the other sector.

The fact that many thousands depend on one state for their place of work and the other state for their place of residence is attested to by the congestion—in both directions—on area bridges.

Elsewhere on this page today are listings of significant facts about this bi-state metropolitan area and also some of its noteworthy "firsts," led by introduction of previously unknown novelties like the ice cream cone, hot dog sandwich, iced tea and the hamburger at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904.

The information was compiled as part of a new theme, "St. Louis has it—from A to Z."

Pick a letter at random, and you will find that this region has it in abundance, it is contended. The "G" list omits Granite City but does include Grant's Farm, golf courses, gardens, the Gashouse Gang of baseball fame, gift shops, greenhouses, geography, Goldenrod and game preserves.

A mighty catchy tune summarizes the message: "We've got the Gateway Arch, antique, amusement parks, boat rides and boulevard, business and beer." "Clydesdales, the Climatron, dinosaurs, department stores. St. Louis has it all right here. We've got Lambert Field, pretzels and paddle wheels, quaint old houses, theaters and trains."

"Four universities, volleyball, water skis."

"Sing it out everybody, and let the whole world see. Whatever you're after, whatever you need, St. Louis has it all from A to Z."

Harry Morley, executive vice president of the Regional Commerce and Growth Association, believes that "for many years, St. Louisans have amiably accepted barsbs at them about their home town by out-of-towners."

"To a comment like 'Whew, it's hot here,' we emit a little chuckle and timidly say, 'Oh, it's not so bad,' and leave it at that."

"To the query 'What goes on in St. Louis?' we'll answer 'Lots' and hope the topic changes."

"As a result of our negative acceptance, the national image of the entire St. Louis area has suffered. Individuals are loathe to move here, fearing the heat and inactivity, and businesses shun it because they question its viability."

"We all know that the St. Louis area is a great place to live and an area where industry can flourish."

The problem is to make believers out of others—especially those outside St. Louis—and eventually change the national image of our home town. We want the two-state St. Louis region to be sought after as a place to live and work.

"The first step is to make believers out of St. Louisans—thinking positive about the place we live."

We want to instill a spirit, a pride that will make their hackles rise when they hear somebody downgrading it, and enable them to present that person with positive facts about greater St. Louis."

The Press-Record heartily applauds the current effort, particularly to the extent that it applies to all portions of the region, including the Quad-Cities and Madison County.

Recognition that "we're all in this together" does not, of course, mean that every effort originating from the Missouri sector must be accepted as automatically sound or automatically unsound.

But the concept of a happy, exciting present and future can do the region a world of good, as can steps to help make this a reality for all. Just as it is unfair when St. Louis news media talks about "metropolitan" progress but "east side" evils when it discusses Illinois happenings, Quad-Cityans have an obligation to help shoulder regional responsibilities as well as benefits.

Stacked-deck task forces and committees of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council have no business maneuvering behind-the-scenes to set those policies properly delegated to elected officials in the two states, but greater Quad-City involvement on such bodies could help make them more effective.

In requesting financial and other help from state and federal agencies, it is necessary not only to oppose agency officials when they act on the basis of misconceptions but to help enlighten them.

In seeking regionwide facilities such as air and surface transportation links, it is important to emphasize factual rather than emotional considerations while insisting on reciprocal fairness.

In opposing some aspects of regional consolidation and control, it is vital that the dialogue deal with specific concerns rather than vague fears.

In seeking an adequate Illinois voice and participation in economic growth, it is crucial that it be earned as well as demanded.

Bi-state cooperation can be a two-way street—and must be, if it is to be maintained and expanded.

Where bonafide mutual cooperation can be achieved, it can help spark almost unlimited success in upgrading the quality and enjoyment of life—in every aspect from A to Z, throughout the region.

Metropolitan area offers Gateway Arch, much more

Facts about St. Louis include:

First American city of any consequence west of the Mississippi. Founded in 1764 by Pierre Laclède in Spanish Territory, in 1804 turned over to the United States as part of the Louisiana Purchase.

Tenth largest metropolitan area in the U.S. (1970 census). Area population 2,300,000.

Gateway Arch, at 630 feet one of the tallest, man-made structures in the world, was visited by more than three million tourists in 1973. It is the fourth most-visited man-made structure in the world, attracting more visitors than the Eiffel Tower.

As for weather, there are four full seasons that give outdoor recreation the year-round. The normal maximum high temperature for July is 89 degrees. In 1973, the high for July was 95 degrees, with a low of 59 and an average of 79.3 degrees.

Other 1973 weather notes: Total rainfall, 39.82 inches; days without sunshine, 37; average year-round temperature, 56 degrees; highest temperature, 95 degrees; lowest temperature, 19 degrees.

St. Louis University, founded in 1818 and chartered in 1822, is the oldest university west of the Mississippi.

Souard's Farmer's Market is believed to be the oldest market place in existence in the U.S., established in 1779 at approximately its present location.

Port of St. Louis, the hub of 12,000 navigable miles of the Missouri, Mississippi and Ohio River systems. St. Louis is the nation's busiest inland port in terms of cargo annually.

As a population center, the St. Louis metropolitan area contains over 76 million people. Over 40 per cent of the nation's industrial activity is within 500 miles of St. Louis.

The Old Cathedral, Basilica of St. Louis the King, was founded in 1770 and is the oldest cathedral west of the Mississippi. In 1961, Pope John XXIII decreed Basilica status upon the church.

The New Cathedral, Cathedral of St. Louis, is considered the finest example of Byzantine architecture in North America. It contains more mosaic art work than any church in the world and lays claim to the world's largest mosaic dome.

St. Louis has virtually an unlimited water supply. Every city in the country could draw its water from the Mississippi River at St. Louis and still not consume the 88 billion gallons of water available daily.

The Missouri Botanical Garden (Shaw's Garden) in St. Louis, established in 1859, is the oldest and one of only two such gardens in America. There are only nine such gardens in the world and few compare with Shaw's cultural, scientific and educational programs.

St. Louis Municipal Opera is the largest municipally owned theater in the world. Its stage is considered the world's largest open-air stage and the world's only open-air, revolving stage.

McDonald's Planetarium in Forest Park boasts the largest amount of exhibit space (12,500 sq. ft.) of the nation's 12 major planetariums.

Of the nation's 200 largest industries, eight of them are headquartered in St. Louis. They are, in alphabetical order: Anheuser-Busch, Emerson Electric, General Dynamics, Interco, McDonnell Douglas, Monsanto, Pet and Ralston Purina. It's also America's second largest railway center and automobile center.

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra is among the best in the nation and this country's second oldest, established in 1879.

Forest Park is the second largest natural park in the country. Over 100,000 golf games are played on its two courses each year and more than 200,000 skaters glide over its ice-rink every winter. The park was the site of the 1904 World's Fair—recognized as the greatest world's fair of all—and some of its original structures are still standing and in operation. They include the City Museum, one of the finest in the nation, and several zoo buildings and structures.

The Wainwright Building was designed in 1890 by the noted architect, Louis Sullivan. It is recognized as the prototype of modern, functional skyscrapers. St. Louis has more than 3,300 manufacturing plants that employ close to 300,000 people. It is the only location on the entire continent where there exist all the material necessary for the production of steel.

The St. Louis Zoo is one of the largest and best equipped in the world. It pioneered the walk-through aviary which is still in use.

Master plan for Percy campaign

By LESTER BELLI
Press-Record

Washington Bureau
Locked in four file cabinets in the senator's capital are four sets of Sen. Charles H. Percy's "master plan" for winning the Republican presidential nomination in 1976.

Under what aides describe as "tight security," Percy holds one set, Joe Farrell, his administrative assistant, a second, and Douglas Bailey, two more.

Bailey is with Bailey, Deardourff and Eyre, the Washington political consulting firm on 15th Street that put Percy's "exploratory committee" together.

The senator himself has termed the six-volume strategy a "master plan." He concedes that Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., is at about right in putting his (Percy's) odds at 10 to 1. Although Percy is not a declared candidate, he is widely recognized as an early advanced possibility who should be taken seriously.

Each of the "master plan" volumes is a three-ring, loose-leaf binder in which revisions can be inserted as political changes warrant. Each set makes a stack about 18 inches high.

Farrell started collecting the material after the 1972 election in the event Percy would become interested in 1974. The first three volumes were finished in March 1973, and the other three were put together in April 1973.

Eight of Percy's aides are "just finishing up" a complete update covering the last 13 months. They "don't want to go to bed" but the scope of the plan is suggested by some of the topics.

They have made a state-by-state analysis of election laws and have researched the statistics and history of Republican conventions for the last 15 years.

Considerable emphasis has been placed on Percy's avenue of approach to the White House.

Forest Park is the second largest natural park in the country. Over 100,000 golf games are played on its two courses each year and more than 200,000 skaters glide over its ice-rink every winter. House—the primary and open caucus states.

His strategy calls for him to get first a "substantial mandate" in the Illinois primary. The 32 primary states will account for two-thirds of the delegates to the 1976 national convention.

Another section reflects Percy's thinking on the issues and his "look at America" in the 10 years ahead.

This section is also designed to determine how a moderate Republican should approach these problems.

In two other sections, the plan visualizes the organization of a national campaign and sets up a tentative budget and cash flow for this operation.

The $11 million for the 30-month campaign is seen as the "top figure." It is not expected that spending will exceed that. On the contrary, aides believe the campaign could be brought in under that figure.

Percy himself has based it on the Senate formula, not yet adopted in Congress, of a spending limit of eight cents a vote for 140 million voters.

Percy's plans so far do not involve the use of computers. It is not so statistical that it lends itself to computer technology.

The earliest Percy could declare his candidacy would be in early 1975. Why? Because his decision is controlled by this fall's elections and his belief that it is not in the national interest to begin a campaign sooner than that.

Several "fall safe points" have been set up for six months apart. The first comes this June and the second this December.

Then, when Percy gets into 1976, the fall-safe points will be the post-primary times after Illinois, California and Wisconsin.

By being so early out of the starting gate, does Percy risk "peaking too soon?"

His aides don't think so, but they acknowledge that the situation does call for caution.

another speech in Chapel Hill the same evening before the 1976 Federation of Republican Women.

North Carolina's new Republican governor is James H. Holshouser, 38, an attorney, former state legislator and former state Republican chairman.

He defeated Democrat Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles Jr. by almost 40,000 votes, and became the first Republican to win the statehouse since 1901.

Another effective Republican Percy will see is Gov. Robert D. Broyhill of Iowa.

Percy will speak May 15 before the Governors' Conference on Aging in Des Moines.

Gov. Ray, 48, like Percy, is considered a political moderate. He was elected to a second two-year term in 1972 by defeating former Democratic State Treasurer Paul Franzberg.

By attending to a recent Iowa newspaper poll, gets 82 per cent approval for the way he is doing his job.

Percy's aides say the senator visited 16 states last year and is shooting for a two-year total of 30 by the end of this year.

The Republican governors association now has a membership of 21—18 state governors plus the governors of the Virgin Islands, Guam and American Samoa.

This year, 12 of the 18 Republican-held states are being contested, as are the governorships of Guam and the Virgin Islands. Elections also will be held this year in the 32 states under Democratic control.

Percy's talks with the governors, characterized as "sharing of ideas," are just now beginning to pick up momentum, aides point out.

"He hasn't done as much as the strategy calls for; that he's ahead," said one spokesman.

Percy is mindful that most of the Republican statehouses are up for election in the Watergate-troubled year of 1974. But he also believes that "you go with what you've got."

GUATEMALA TOUR

FOR CINDY STARR

Miss Cindy Starr has received notice that she has been accepted as one of the young people to go on a bus tour into Guatemala, sponsored by Memorial Presbyterian Church in Clayton.

The group will leave St. Louis June 10, and be away for three weeks.

The travelers will visit a number of Presbyterian mission stations and participate in worship services with people of Guatemala. They also will contribute work, such as painting and repairing mission property.

Miss Starr was selected on the basis of her active role in the Mitchell Presbyterian Church.

The applicants are screened for dedication, health, stability, and ability to work with others under unusual conditions. Sixteen girls from the Presbytery, a region which includes the St. Louis metropolitan area and Southeastern Missouri, were selected to participate in the tour.

COMING SOON TO GRANITE CITY!

A chicken is a chicken is a chicken. "Not true!"

A lot of people will tell you that chicken is chicken. But anyone who's tried our Golden West Fryers knows that's simply not true. Golden West Fryers are strictly Grade A Government Inspected Fryers. We can honestly say that Golden West Fryers are better. Here are the facts:

The Golden West Fryer Test.

"If you want to be a Golden West Fryer, you've got a hard test to pass. Schnucks panel of poultry pickers are a tough bunch. To be selected, you've got to be the plumpiest, meatiest and most tender fryer. But it's worth it, because then you get to be a Golden West Grade A Fryer."

Why are Golden West Fryers better than other types of chicken?

Golden West Fryers are raised on specially formulated feed from the start to have the perfect plumpness, meatiness, tenderness, size and color. They're raised right here in Missouri. So, when they're ready to go to our stores, they go from farm to meat case within twenty-four hours. This way, we know they're fresh and full of flavor.

Can you tell how good a chicken is just by looking at it?

Certainly. You can tell a better chicken by its amount of meat per pound, its plumpness, color and size. The best fryers have a full breast and legs. They also have a yellow cast rather than white and weigh at least 2 1/2 pounds. Compare a Golden West Grade A Fryer with other fryers. We're certain that the Golden West Fryer will be fuller, plumper, and have more appealing color than the others.

A promise from Schnucks-Food Town to you.

Our own Golden West Grade A Fryers are one of the best values when it comes to chicken. If you're looking for plump, meaty, fresh and tender fryers, choose Golden West. We raise and sell them exclusively for our customers. Believe us. There is a definite difference in chicken, and Golden West is among the best you can buy. It's not just one of the flock.

2,000 Lutherans hear leaders

A near-capacity audience of 2,000 filled Belle-Clair Exposition Hall on the St. Clair County Fairgrounds to hear the president of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod (LCMS) and three other synodical leaders offer their viewpoints of the complex situation which has polarized many within the 2.8 million member church body.

The Synodical Support Rally was sponsored by Concerned Lutheran Lay People of Southern Illinois. A number of Quad-Cityans attended the event.

Doctrinal and administrative disagreements within the LCMS over the years came to a head in January of this year when Dr. John H. Tietjen was suspended as president of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, on charges of malfeasance and allowing false doctrine to be taught at the seminary. A majority of Concordia's faculty and students boycotted classes for a month, and in mid-February left the campus to form their own seminary in exile, dubbed "seminex."

Dr. J. A. O. Preus, now serving his second four-term as LCMS president, told the audience "The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod is not going to split because of current controversy."

"We're going to come through our troubles with strong doctrinal consensus and carry out in the best fashion the great commission of our Lord Jesus Christ, for that's what the church is here to do."

Dr. Preus reported that the stable financial standing of the LCMS, even up to the last week in April, is as he puts it "...one of the greatest answers we could give to those who would alter the work of the church by choosing to divert funds."

"I would hope there can be some good out of this controversy," he said, adding that he has found LCMS members are intensifying their study of the Bible, the Lutheran Confessions and certain documents of the LCMS Commission on Theology and Church Relations because of doctrinal discussions in the church.

Eugene Fincke, a member of the Concordia Seminary Board of Control, relating numerous facts about the board's actions defended its suspension of Dr. Tietjen and specifically referred to a number of disagreements between Dr.

Tietjen and the board.

"In a time when permissiveness is the order of the day," Fincke said, "we must live by the laws to live in common fellowship. So we are pledged to uphold the Synod's constitution and bylaws." He stated that the faculty boycott of classes had been "irresponsible" and that the students who eventually left to form "seminex" were "ill-advised and misdirected."

Dr. Robert D. Preus, Concordia's vice president for academic affairs who is acting administrative officer at the school, told the audience that "though Concordia was compared to a bombed-out city just after the formation of seminex, it will very soon surpass its former glory."

"We've never had a finer bunch of professors than now, and I have every reason to believe that Concordia Seminary will rise with unparalleled prestige as we rebuild it."

Dr. Preus related "...next year's courses will be taught with good theology, and will produce excellent pastors for the church." He added that plans for summer school are proceeding according to schedule, and that the program of continuing education for LCMS pastors is an important part of that curriculum.

The vice president for academic affairs indicated that he believes the academic probation imposed two years ago on Concordia by the American Association of Theological Schools will be lifted at the AATS annual meeting this June.

Dr. Paul Zimmerman, president of Concordia Teachers' League, River Forest, Ill., told the assembly that the LCMS has a system for training church workers which is envied throughout the world. "If our Synod is to continue as a great confessional church, supplying the type of professional workers who can spread the word of God among our members and to the unchurched, we must continue showing the kind of support which you are making known by your presence tonight," Dr. Zimmerman concluded.

Concerned Lutheran Lay People of Southern Illinois is planning a second rally for the Litchfield area. Dates will be announced in the near future.

Bus evangelism clinic set

The General Baptist Home Mission Board will sponsor a Church Bus Evangelism Clinic Monday and Tuesday at the Mount Zion General Baptist Church, 2067 Benton St.

The Rev. Elvis Marcum, pastor of the Graceland Baptist Church in New Albany, Ind., will lead the conference and will be the featured speaker. He will be assisted by a team of workers from his church.

The clinic will begin at 1 p.m. Monday and will continue through Tuesday night. The fee will be $5 per person or $15 for each church.

Topics to be discussed in the clinic will include how to begin a bus ministry, role of various workers in the bus ministry, enlisting workers, enlisting bus riders, preparing for rapid growth, children's church, counseling children about conversion, baptism and church membership, the Saturday schedule, the Sunday schedule and other topics.

Representatives of all Baptist churches in the Quad-City area have been invited to attend. A 60-voice choir from the Graceland Church in New Albany will sing the Alleluia Cantata Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.

RUSHED TO AMBULANCE. Miss Bonnie Meyer, 18, Glen Carbon, was carried on a stretcher by Arnold Rutherford, assistant chief of the Long Lake fire department, left, Otto Kreher, a volunteer fireman, center, Dick Mizell, Mercer ambulance attendant, and others after she was hurt in a one-car crash on route 162 a fourth-mile east of State Aid Route 35 Monday night. (Fischer Photo)

EXTINGUISHING FIRE in the engine area of the car of Bonnie Meyer, Glen Carbon, Monday night. The young woman was hurt when the auto overturned several times in a field. She is recuperating at St. Elizabeth Hospital. On the scene were state troopers, sheriff's deputies, Pontoon Beach police and members of the Long Lake volunteer fire Department and rescue squad (Fischer Photo)

Rites held for Ambrose Darden

Funeral services were held Monday at an East St. Louis funeral home for Ambrose Darden, 32, of East St. Louis, a former Madison resident. Darden was severely burned when he cut through a high-voltage electric wire on a transmission tower near Hartford a week ago. He died

Hurt in mishap

The autos of Larry Miller, East St. Louis, and Joseph Fronchek, Collinsville, collided at State Aid Route 35 and Route 111 at 10:50 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Nancy Miller, 23, of East St. Louis, a passenger in Miller's car, was treated and released from St. Elizabeth Hospital with abrasions to her fingers and a contusion to her left knee. Fronchek was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and Miller was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Walker pleads guilty in levee case

Johnny Walker of East St. Louis, an employee of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, Monday pleaded guilty in St. Clair County Circuit Court at Belleville to nine counts of perjury.

Walker earlier had pleaded innocent to lying under oath last year to a grand jury which was investigating levee district practices. Monday he reversed his plea on all nine counts.

He was charged with saying he had endorsed nine levee district payroll checks made out in his name when the checks actually had been signed by someone else. The checks totaled $3,729, it was reported. Walker and Leslie "Jack" Bazzell, a former levee district chief of pump operators, were indicted Sept. 6, 1973, by the grand jury. Bazzell was charged with 15 counts of theft, allegedly having taken more than $5,000, and one count of official misconduct. Both Bazzell's and Walker's cases are pending.

Mrs. Marcella Noud, 54, dies

Mrs. Marcella O. (Kline) Noud, 54, of 401 Lennox Ave., ill for six months, was pronounced dead at home at 7 a.m. Wednesday by Edward Werner, Madison County deputy coroner.

Born in Alton, she had resided in Granite City 34 years. Mrs. Noud was a member of Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, and the DeMolay Mothers Club. She was of the Protestant faith.

Her husband, William Noud, died April 26, 1973. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Eleanor) Knight of Granite City and Mrs. Norman (Patricia) Gantt of Mitchell; two sons, William J. Noud III of Alton and a brother, Orville Kline, of Florida. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Give testimony on basin, dam

A delegation from the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association (ROGA) testified in Washington Wednesday before the Subcommittee on Public Works of the House and Senate Appropriation Committees in support of federal funding for two construction projects offering potential economic benefits for the St. Louis region. The delegation's testimony requested federal funding for development of the Meramec Basin area near St. Louis, particularly the Meramec Park and Union Lake segments of the project, and also the replacement of Locks and Dam 26 below Alton on the Mississippi River.

Mrs. Evanka Pavloff dies

Mrs. Evanka (Velchoff) Pavloff, 72, of 1117 Iowa St., Madison, a native of Bulgaria, died at 2:48 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital where she had been a patient two weeks. She was a member of Holy Trinity Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church and belonged to the Macedonian-Bulgarian Ladies Aid Society, Sisterhood of Holy Trinity Church and the Bulgarian Ladies Society. Her husband, George Pavloff, died June 8, 1949. Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Mary Stonoff of West Monroe, La., and a brother Steve Velchoff of Vicksburg, Miss. Funeral services are given in the obituary column.

Channel 9 tops nation in program diversity

Diversity of programming on KETC-TV, Channel 9, the St. Louis area public television outlet, led the entire field of 242 public TV stations in the United States during the past year, according to a report issued this week by the Public Television Library. PTL, a programming cooperative, each year surveys the program schedules of all such stations. In addition to regular programming from the Public Broadcasting Service (PBS) network lines and a variety of programs, Channel 9 aired a cumulative total of 640½ diverse programming units from the Public Television Library last year, leading the nation. Other leading programmers included those in Columbus, Ohio, with 572½, Maryland, with 544½, Maryland Center for Public Television, Owings Mills, 486½, and Memphis, 453 units. The average number of diverse programming units scheduled on all public television stations was 111 during the past year. "The PTL survey really bears out the aims of Channel 9 in attempting to serve diverse viewing needs rather than to appeal to a mass audience at the lowest common denominator," comments R. C. Glazier, general manager of KETC-TV and executive director for the St. Louis Educational Television Commission, licensee of the station here. KETC-TV not only offers the widest variety of programming in the nation, but it also helps to produce programming to add to that variety available through the Public TV Library. It is the ninth leading supplier of program units for national distribution, and during the past year it provided 165½ units of programming to PTL. Other leading producers for the library, which distributes its programs entirely via videotape, are the stations in Boston, Milwaukee, Chicago, San Francisco, Cincinnati, Los Angeles, New York and Pittsburgh.

Don't get caught in the gas shortage this year!

Come to Lovely . . .
KA-HO LAKE ESTATES
"The affordable Vacation-type Community"

Sometimes the best rewards in land investment can be almost right at home! One great thing about Ka-Ho Lakes is it's there and back on probably less than a half-tank of gas!

This year, when you plan your vacation, do it wisely with an eye to the future and invest those "vacation dollars" where you can have something left over of permanent value, yet enjoy each vacation or every week-end whenever you want.

Plan towards the future or build towards your retirement and do it the easy way . . . yet, still be close to home, your family and friends, instead of miles away in some far-off remote part of the country where, perhaps, you'll never see them again!

Ka-Ho Lake Estates is one of the rare private communities in Illinois that has separate camps set aside for campers, mobile homes, and permanent residences. Financing is available and can be extremely convenient because we do our own.

Call collect, or dial 1-217-999-7332 for an Appointment, and DRIVE OUT TODAY!

KLINKE VW "THE THING"

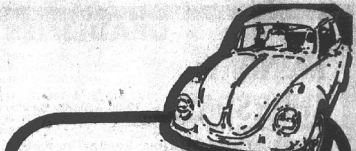

And it can be anything.
It has a top that goes down, doors that come off, a windshield that flips down.
It's good for the country and good for the city because even though it's tough, you don't have to be tough to drive it.
The least Volkswagen could do.
To help make a good thing even better.

When you get out of high school, how many jobs do you think you'll have a chance for?

How does 300-plus sound to you?

In the new Navy, if you qualify, you can get one of more than 300 important skilled jobs. From computer technology and electronics to machinery repair and aviation mechanics. They're jobs a guy can build a life-long career on, in the Navy or out.

But there are more reasons to join the Navy. Like travel. And money. More than $340 a month after just four months, plus food, housing and medical care. There's a new three-year enlistment plan now, report-up-to-six-months-later program and a Naval Reserve two-year active duty plan.

If the Navy sounds like someplace you'd like to be when you graduate, come on in.

Find out how you can be someone special in The New Navy.

Deborah Pesta to marry in June

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Deborah Kay Pesta of Minneapolis, Minn., and Larry Leon Jones of Hoffman Estates, Ill., are being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Pesta, 145 Bermuda Drive, Mankato, Minn., former residents of Granite City.

Both attended Mankato State College at Mankato, Minn., and are employed by Northwest Orient Airlines.

Miss Pesta was graduated in 1968 from Mankato High School and is a Northwest Orient Airlines stewardess. Her mother is the former Mary Virginia Stevens of Granite City.

The prospective bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jones of Route 3, Le Sueur, Minn. He graduated from Le Sueur High School and presently works as a transportation agent for the airlines company.

Plans are being completed for a June 1 wedding in Minneapolis.

Altar Society plans banquet

Plans were finalized for a mother and daughter dinner on May 21 at the Granite City Army Installation during last month's meeting of the Sacred Heart Altar Society.

At the event, entertainment will be provided by a barbershop quartet. The dinner will be in charge of the meeting.

Opening prayer was by Mrs. Irene Argelan.

Among the forthcoming projects announced by the president were a trip to Our Lady of Snows Shrine on June 11; the May Fellowship Day luncheon on Friday; and a visit to the King's House retreat, Belleville, for the parish women.

Mrs. Georgia Miller was named reservation chairman for the latter event, with the date to be announced later.

Helen Galt and Vance Reznack, students at Sacred Heart School, were chosen to participate in the May crowning of the Blessed Mother on the church grounds.

Gladys Koisher, Florence Toth and Rosemary Holgrave were appointed to a nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers for election at the first fall meeting.

Members also made plans to visit residents at the Colonial Hand Nursing Home each month.

Hostesses were Marie Perry, Irene Argelan and Grace Henrich.

FOUR RECEIVE AWARDS

AT CUB PACK 3 MEET An awards presentation ceremony highlighted a meeting of Cub Pack 3 held in the basement of the Pontoon Church of Christ.

Cubmaster James Watson presented Bobcat pins to Jeff Helvey and Darren Parker; a Wolf badge to Derek Parker; and a Sportsman's activity badge to Webelo David Parker.

TO MARRY. Miss Deborah Kay Pesta and her fiancé, Larry Leon Jones, whose betrothal is being announced by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Pesta, 145 Bermuda Drive, Mankato, Minn., formerly of Granite City. A June 1 wedding in Minneapolis is planned.

Alpha Eta installs Mrs. Fryntzko

Mrs. Agnes Fryntzko of Granite City, principal of Parkview School, was installed as president of the Alpha Eta Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society at its final meeting of the 1973-74 club year held during the weekend at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn.

Two Granite City teachers, Miss Hazel Towery and Miss Lucy Parrish, both employed at Granite City High School South, will serve as chapter recording secretary and corresponding secretary, respectively.

Other officers are Mrs. Londa

Cook, first vice-president, East Alton; and Miss Patsy Garver, second vice-president, Edwardsville.

The initiation of two new members, Mrs. Irene Sanders and Mrs. Mary Ann Stewart, was conducted at 11:30 a.m., followed by a luncheon at 12:30.

During the business meeting, the Alpha Eta members presented a recruitment grant of $100 to Carol Kottwitz, an Edwardsville High School student.

The chapter also celebrated its 32nd birthday with a skit, narrated by Miss Elsie Maylath, band director at Coolidge Junior High School, entitled "Alpha Eta Bakes a Birthday Cake."

Other Granite City members attending the luncheon event were Miss Kathleen Kalkhoff, Miss Lucinda Huck and Miss Bea Cooley.

STOP ROOFING PROBLEMS NOW!

PLASITEX ROOFING

REPAIRS Colored Elastomeric. Fills, seals, cracks and nail holes; adheres tightly to the roof... bonds roofing granules down shingles and, at the same time, gives a beautiful new look.

INSULATES The Plasitex coating forms a reflective Elastomeric shield over the entire roof. This helps keep interiors cooler in summer, warmer in winter... lowers air conditioning and heating costs. Removable.

PRESERVES Moisture doesn't get through, so there's no deterioration of the roofing material. The coating resists the harmful effects of acid and alkali, fumes, salt air, sunlight and general weathering. Reinforced roofing granules extend years of life with less maintenance.

SAVES One coat of Colored Plasitex Elastomeric can save the owner many dollars. It can also eliminate the cost of repair and replacement of the building materials, yet extend the useful life of all types of structures.

DECORATES Attractive colored Liquid Plasitex gives uniform appearance to old, patched surfaces... and adds beauty and new life to dull, weathered roofs.

Olympic soccer tryouts in area

Fifty of the nation's outstanding collegiate and senior soccer players will compete in Midwest area combined trials at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Saturday and Sunday to determine those eligible for national final tryouts for the United States Pan-Am team in 1975 and the U.S. Olympic team in 1976.

Fourteen players will be picked out of the field of 50. Bob Guelker, SIUE head soccer coach and athletic director, has announced. Thirty-three of the 50 are from the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Finals for the national trials also will be held at Cougar Field June 12. Guelker is chairman of the Midwest Pan-Am and Olympic selection committee.

The trials Saturday and Sunday will be in the form of games each day. Admission for each day will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students with identification cards and those under 16 years of age.

SIUE will have 12 of its players competing for berths on the squads; St. Louis University, nine; the University of Missouri-St. Louis, four; and Quincy College, three.

Tournament next for sizzling Cougar nine

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's baseball team, zooming along at a 19-7 clip (one game lost by a 6-5 score is being protested), has proven that it is a tough road club. In its last six games, all on the road, the Cougars' Coach Roy E. Lee have won five and lost one, a 2-0 decision to St. Louis U. and the Bills' star southpaw, 6-7 Steve Walsh.

The Cougars started their road trek with a 13-inning 6-3 decision over the Washington U. Bears in St. Louis. Two days later, again at St. Louis, they split with the Bills.

Last weekend, they traveled to Evansville for a pair of doubleheaders with Indiana State U.-Evansville. The Cougars won 7-5 in a 12-inning battle but, after they knotted the second game at 6-6, their tying tally was nullified on an appeal to the umpire.

SIUE then took out its anger on the Indiana State U. Eagles, 7-1 and 9-1, early this week.

Tom Twillman continues to set a hot pace, hitting .385. As a team, the Cougars have a .307 average, including 19 home runs, ten triples and 36 doubles.

The ten top Cougar batters include Terry (.345) Vartanian, Stu (.299) Trask, Jack (.388) Segruborough, Dennis (.337) Worth, Pat (.301) Peterson, Jon (.300) Rehg, Jim (.279) Greenwald, Bob (.275) Matzenbacher and Bill (.190) Lee.

Extra dividend by Laclede Steel Co.

Paul B. Akin, president of Laclede Steel Co., has reported that the board of directors of the company has declared a regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share payable May 24 to stockholders of record at the close of business May 10.

In a brief statement of operations for the first quarter of 1974, subject to annual audit, Akin reported that net sales were $42,120,000 compared to $31,971,000 for the first quarter of 1973 and net earnings were $2,356,000 or $5.71 a share, a significant increase over $880,000 or $2.14 a share for the comparable period last year.

President Akin indicated that "in Laclede's 1973 annual report I mentioned that our net earnings as a percentage of sales were 2.7 per cent for the year. This compared poorly with other steel companies and with companies in other industries.

"Our first quarter 1974 earnings as a portion of sales, 5.6 per cent, remain on the low side for most industries, but are a marked improvement for Laclede."

He announced that "in view of this improvement and of the earnings outlook for the second and third quarters, the board of directors declared that an extra dividend of $1 per share also will be paid on May 24 to stockholders of record on May 10."

Akin concluded that "although scrap prices remain at unprecedented levels, we have been able to buy our needs."

"The acute domestic steel shortage continues and will probably extend well through the third quarter of 1974."

Net sales of $42,120,000 in January-March 1974 produced earnings before income taxes amounting to $4,149,000. There was a $1,793,000 provision for income taxes, leaving net earnings of $2,356,000.

Comparable figures for the first quarter of 1973 were $31,971,000, $1,179,000, $299,000 and $880,000.

Investment credit amounted to $275,000 for the first quarter of 1974 and $312,000 for the 1973 quarter.

It was explained that "the provision for income taxes for the first quarter of 1973 represented an effective consolidated tax rate of 26 per cent after recognition of available investment credit."

"Anticipating that investment credit carry-forwards remaining at the end of 1973 and those generated in 1974 will be fully utilized in 1974, the effective consolidated tax rate for the year 1974 is presently estimated to be approximately 43 per cent."

Bids sought on court alteration

Frank Resnik, regional administrator, General Services Administration, announced Tuesday, that sealed bids are being solicited from small business concerns for court facility alterations at the Federal Building, U. S. Courthouse, Springfield.

The work includes new wood studs and drywall partitioning, new washroom facilities, shelving and storage units, reworking and refinishing of existing woodwork, painting and finishing, interior masonry, new carpeting and installation of Government-furnished carpeting, ceramic tile, new electrical lighting and wiring, new roof-mounted refrigeration unit and other related electrical and mechanical work.

The estimated cost is between $100,000 and $500,000.

All requests for plans and specifications must be accompanied by a certified check, cashier's check or money order made payable to the GSA. There is a non-refundable charge of $10 per set for each set of plans and specifications requested.

A maximum of three sets may be requested by general contractors and one set by principal subcontractors.

Plans may be obtained by writing or calling the General Services Administration, Room 1152, Everett McKinley Dirksen Building, 218 South Dearborn St., Chicago 60604. Telephone is 312-353-5293, extension 43.

Bids for Project GS-68C-81489 will be received until 2 p.m. May 30 at the GSA Business Service Center, where they will be publicly opened and read.

Marshall first graders tour 4 schools to present play

May in Illinois century ago included major observances of Memorial Day

In Illinois—a hundred years ago—Memorial Day was observed with parades and speeches before huge audiences in towns with cemeteries where Civil War veterans were buried. The first Memorial Day in the North had been held at Carbondale, Ill., in 1866. In the years that followed, the observances grew in size and spread throughout the state and country.

On May 8, 1874, Illinois Gov.

John L. Beveridge issued a proclamation appointing "Saturday, the 30th inst. a 'Memorial Day' in remembrance of our patriotic dead."

A selective sampling of files of 10 newspapers for the period in the collections of the Illinois State Historical Library shows that the 1874 observances were probably more numerous and better attended than any up to that time.

The newspapers also show that the graves of both Union and Confederate soldiers were strewn with flowers.

The Civil War had ended nine years earlier and, as the Chicago Tribune said, "There are many evidences that... the differences between the North and the South are passing away, and that a feeling of real brotherhood is growing up."

The largest observance in the state that year was at Rock Island, where visitors came from Moline by streetcar and from Davenport, Ia., on special trains. The Rock Island Daily Union estimated that there were 4,000 in the line of march and that 7,000 to 8,000 attended the speeches and ceremonies at the national cemetery on the island.

The paper reported that "while the graves of our dead soldiers were being strewn with flowers by the children, six Union soldiers, all wounded in the rebellion and subsequently discharged for disability, placed floral offerings at the leveled place where rest the bones of many Confederates who died at the military prison on Rock Island."

In Chicago, the Evening Journal reported that the marchers consisted of military units, each with its band. They were led by the Grand Army of the Republic (Civil War veterans) and included the American Polish Guards, the Mulligan Zouvas, the Sheridan Guards and the Alpine Hunters, who "carried fresh bunches of flowers in the muzzles of their muskets."

The parade formed in the Loop, proceeded north to Superior Street, and then to the North Western station where the marchers and their followers boarded trains for Rosehill and Cavalry cemeteries.

One "train of 23 coaches, heavily loaded and yet drawn by a single engine, moved out and wound round the curves with the appearance of a giant anaconda." The number of passengers on two trains totaled 2,500.

Gov. Beveridge was the speaker at a ceremony at the Mount City National Cemetery near Cairo. Theme of his address was "the divine character of forgiveness."

dress was "the divine character of forgiveness."

At the Camp Butler National Cemetery near Springfield, Maj. Bluford Wilson delivered the oration of the day and said that "the time has come when enmities and hates should be buried."

Except for the reference in Gov. Beveridge's proclamation, which was published in Springfield's Illinois State Register, Memorial Day was still known as Decoration Day and the Register also called it Commemoration Day.

When the Civil War was mentioned, the papers called it the War of Rebellion.

Four Quad-Cityans retire

Among new Granite City Steel retirees are four from the Quad-Cities, two of whom had more than 30 years of service with the firm.

Longest-service employee in the group was Ray Love, 65, who spent 33 years in the Blast Furnace electrical department, and was BP electrical foreman at retirement. He had been a supervisor since 1961. He and his wife, Marjorie, live at 2900 State St.

Joe Mitchell, 63, of 2314 Adams St., retired with 31½ years of service. Mitchell spent his entire career in the Standard Gauge department, retiring as locomotive engineer. He and his wife, Maybell, have two daughters, a son, and three grandchildren. Mitchell enjoys woodworking. The other two Quad-Cityans each had 26 years of continuous service.

Everett "Red" Brady, 63, retired as assistant yardmaster in the Standard Gauge department. He and his wife, Nadine, live at 4062 Sara, Apt. 111. They have two sons, a daughter, and five grandchildren. Brady's hobby is square dancing.

Rayburn Hollis, 65, of 2033 Harris, Madison, retired as BOP lode digger. He and his wife, Mattie, have a daughter and two grandchildren. Hollis has no special retirement plans. Others retiring from Granite City Steel recently were Pat Drda, Edwardsville; Lawrence Ramach, Worden, and Lawrence Gorman, Collinsville.

Blair fighting for his political life

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record

Springfield Bureau House Speaker W. Robert Blair of Park Forest is fighting to save his political career. That was a reaction to his surprise announcement that he will sponsor legislation in the current session to permit counties to withdraw from the newly-created Regional Transportation Authority (RTA).

Blair's announcement was a bombshell, not only because as a strong speaker he is recognized as the most powerful Republican in the legislature, but also because he was one of the principal architects of the RTA legislation.

There was immediate agreement that, by permitting any counties to withdraw from the RTA by a vote of its county board, Blair's plan if enacted would destroy the struggling agency.

At the Capitol there was a consensus that his switch was politically inspired. He admitted as much in saying at a news conference that he had second thoughts about RTA, since it barely won approval March 19 in six-county referendum. The counties were Kane, DuPage, Will, McHenry, Lake and Cook.

The proposal was emphatically defeated in Blair's own 42nd legislative district of Will County (Joliet), and the Cook County suburban areas overall were heavily against. Had not Mayor Richard J. Daley's organization delivered a huge favorable vote in the City of Chicago, the proposition would have failed.

Statehouse strategists are convinced that Blair was stunned not only because of the heavy Will County vote against RTA, but even more so by the sharp fallout in his own vote compared with the previous primary in 1972.

Two years ago, Blair polled a hefty 15,772 votes, almost double that received by the second GOP district representative, Harry D. Leinenweber of Joliet, who had 8,713 votes. But this year Blair's total dropped to 12,426, while Leinenweber's climbed to 11,280.

Adding to Blair's worries is the fact that there was a third candidate in the GOP primary this year, Todd H. Lowe of Bolingbrook, who received 9,231 votes.

Probably more ominous for Blair was what happened on the Democratic side of the ballot in the district primary. Incumbent Rep. George E. Sangmeister, D-Mokena, polled a district high of 15,235 votes and the second-place Democrat, LeRoy Van Duyn, of Joliet, won nomination with 12,600 votes, 200 more than received by Speaker Blair.

The third Democrat in the race, William D. Craig of Joliet, lost out with 6,199 votes.

Overall, Democrats outpolled Republicans in the district 34,015 to 32,937.

The cold primary vote statistics—plus reports from the district—add up to a strong possibility that the Democrats in November may well elect two representatives this time, and that Blair could be the Republican loser.

Sangmeister's re-election is being virtually conceded and Van Duyn is rated as a strong threat. In 1970, he came within 233 votes of winning a Senate seat, losing out to Republican Sen. Wendell Ballz of Joliet.

Van Duyn is well-known in the district through service on the Joliet Township Board. Blair's slippage is attributed to the RTA issue. The feeling is that he had to climb out from under it as soon as possible or face loss of his House seat, which would mean not only automatic loss of his legislative leadership post, but kill off all hopes of winning the Republican nomination for governor in 1976.

Self-preservation remains the first law of politics.

Named to attend national meet

Harold Gebhardt, head of the Science Department at Granite City High School North has been selected as one of 25 teachers from across the nation to attend the Instructional Improvement Implementation Project to be held at Hope College in Holland, Mich., from June 24 to Aug. 16. It was announced by Gilbert W. Walmesley, principal at North.

Participants were selected on the basis of their ability and their likelihood of being able to succeed in the program.

Guest lecturers will be teaching during the institute from the following schools: Dr. Clark E. Bricker, University of Kansas; Dr. F. Sheldon Wetack, Hope College; Dr. W. Thomas Lippincott, University

Special bus here for transit fund hearing

A public hearing will be held by the Bi-State Development Agency in Assembly Hall No. 1 at Kiel Auditorium, 1400 Market St., at 7:30 p.m. Monday, May 6, to consider a transit improvement project for which financial assistance is being sought from the U. S. Urban Mass Transportation Administration.

The project includes purchase of new buses, two-way bus radios and station equipment, bus shelters and benches, pollution control devices, garage modernization and property improvements, office and shop equipment, fare collection equipment, supervisor cars and other utility vehicles.

Cost of the project is estimated at $17,547,410, of which 90 per cent or $15,792,228 is being sought as a federal grant. The local matching share of $1,755,182 is to be provided by Bi-State capital funds which have been made available through a half-cent sales tax in St. Louis and St. Louis County.

The hearing is being held in line with requirements for capital grants under the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964. A copy of the application for the federal grant for the proposed project is available for public inspection at the office of the Bi-State Transit System, 3809 Park Ave., St. Louis 63110.

To make it easier for Illinois residents to attend, free roundtrip rides on special Bi-State buses will be provided from City Halls in specified communities.

Departure time Monday, May 6, will be 6 p.m. in Granite City, 6:15 in Madison and 6:35 in Venice.

Dr. Patel new physician here

Dr. Kanoo M. Patel is joining Dr. F. C. Kumar of Granite City in the practice of internal medicine and cardiology. It was announced this week Dr. Patel began his practice here yesterday.

Dr. Kumar and Dr. Patel occupy offices in the Bellmore Medical Building, Jill and Myrtle avenues.

Dr. Patel is a board certified internist of the American College of Physicians and a Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians, Canada.

He has trained in various branches of cardiology for several years and prior to coming to Granite City served as staff internist at the University of New York Hospital, Buffalo, N. Y.

Added protection for children at day care facilities in state

Jerome G. Miller, director of the state Department of Children and Family Services, last week announced several actions to protect children in day care facilities.

Miller said he has ordered department staff members to—Initiate a public information campaign to make sure that directors and staff assistants of nursery schools and child day care centers are aware of their responsibility under law to report cases of suspected child abuse to the department.

—Seek license revocations or other appropriate legal action against operators of day care homes or centers known to operate in serious violation of the terms of their license. —Hire and train more persons to license day care homes in Cook County.

Miller said the department will conduct a mailing within the next 30 days to the nearly 1,000 licensed day care centers within the state, outlining new responsibilities for day care personnel under recent amendments to the State Child Abuse Act.

The law now requires immediate reporting to the Department of Children and Family Services of suspected child abuse cases by "the director or staff assistant of a nursery school or child day care center."

These persons are also granted immunity from any legal action, civil or criminal, that a parent or other person could conceivably initiate.

Miller noted that day care centers in Illinois have a licensed capacity for more than 77,000 children.

"Day care operators who spend many hours with children are in an excellent position to identify youngsters who may have been subjected to abuse or neglect in the home," Miller concluded. "Now they have the legal responsibility—and legal safeguards—to act decisively to protect those children."

regulatory responsibilities. "I have instructed our licensing and legal staff to refer serious violators of the state Child Care Act to the offices of the state's attorney and state attorney general for appropriate action."

The director emphasized that the department is not interested in harassing or "hassling" day care providers who operate within the terms of their license and give decent care to children.

"Day care services are in short supply. We want to encourage—not discourage—development of such services."

"But when parents entrust their children to a licensed day care operator, they have a right to expect a minimum level of safety, concern, and care for their kids."

Miller said the five additional licensing personnel he is authorizing will bring to nine the number of workers assigned to licensing of day care homes in Chicago. Their duties will include working on a backlog of 291 applications for day care home licenses.

Most facilities, including family homes, which are used for care of children outside their own home are subject to licensure under terms of the Child Care Act of 1969. The operator of a licensed day care home may provide care for a maximum of eight children (including the family's own children under age 18).

Radio Talking Book open house Sunday

An Open House for the Radio Talking Book (WMRY-FM), a project of the Oblates of Mary Immaculate of the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, Belleville, for the benefit of the blind and handicapped, is planned Sunday from 1 to 3 p.m.

The project's studio is in the same building and adjacent to the WMRY-FM commercial studios, located at a high point on the grounds of the 200-acre shrine.

WMRY-FM is a wholly-owned broadcast facility of the Oblate Fathers. The talking book program was initiated in this area by Father Boniface Wittenbrink who also is the project's director.

The program was on the air March 1, 1973, and had a budget of about $107,000 for the broadcast year ending Feb. 28, 1974.

Volunteer residents agree to read the daily papers, news magazines, consumer oriented magazines, and religious programs each Monday through Friday for the benefit of the handicapped who have radio receivers for this closed circuit program.

At the present time there are approximately 600 receivers in the Missouri and Illinois area and an additional 400 sets will be placed in homes of the handicapped who they are delivered. One receiver is being used at Colonial Haven Nursing Home in Grant City.

There are an estimated 6,014 blind persons in a 26-county area of Missouri and Illinois and possibly more physically handicapped persons who could be helped by the talking book program.

Volunteer workers are needed in several categories in addition to reading, the Rev. Wittenbrink said. Any individual or organization who wishes to participate in the project may do so by contacting WMRY's Talking Book, Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, 9500 West Route 460, Belleville, IL 62223.

The public has been invited to attend the open house admission free, the Rev. Wittenbrink added.

Heavy penalties under Illinois marijuana law

The much-discussed Cannabis Control Act of Illinois first became effective Aug. 16, 1971, and was amended as of Jan. 1, 1973. Cannabis includes marijuana, hashish and other derivatives.

The Act provides "wide latitude in the sentencing discretion of the courts and establishes penalties in a sharply rising progression based on the amount of substances containing cannabis involved in each case."

The Act states, "It is unlawful for any person to possess cannabis."

A person convicted of possession of less than 2.5 grams of any substance containing cannabis is guilty of a misdemeanor and is subject to imprisonment for not more than 30 days.

Anyone convicted of possession of more than 2.5 grams, but less than 10 grams, is guilty of a misdemeanor and can be imprisoned for not more than six months.

Possession of 10 to 30 grams of cannabis is considered a misdemeanor but can lead to imprisonment on the first conviction of up to one year; in subsequent convictions, it is considered a felony, with imprisonment from one to three years.

Possession of more than 30 but not more than 500 grams of cannabis is punishable as a felony, with imprisonment of from one to ten years. If there is repetition of such a conviction, it is a felony with imprisonment of from one to ten years.

A person convicted of possession of more than 500 grams of cannabis is guilty of a felony which carries a one-year to ten-year prison sentence for each conviction.

The Illinois State Bar Association said this week that anyone who delivers or manufactures cannabis is subject to the following penalties:

For less than 2.5 grams, a misdemeanor and subject to imprisonment for not more than 30 days.

Anyone convicted of possession of more than 2.5 grams, but less than 10 grams, is guilty of a misdemeanor and can be imprisoned for not more than six months.

For 10 to 30 grams, a felony and imprisonment of one to three years;

For 30 to 500 grams, a felony and imprisonment of from one to 10 years;

For 500 grams and over, a felony and imprisonment of one to 10 years;

Any person 18 years old or older who delivers cannabis to a person under 18 who is at least three years younger than himself is subject to a prison sentence of up to twice the maximum otherwise specified.

Anyone under 18, convicted of possession, manufacture or delivery of cannabis, may be treated in accordance with the Illinois Juvenile Court Act.

The production of the cannabis sativa plant is a misdemeanor, punishable by a jail sentence of less than one year, or a fine, or both.

The Bar Association further warns that a person or persons can be convicted the first time of a "calculated criminal cannabis conspiracy."

This involves possession, manufacture or delivery of 30 to 500 grams of cannabis, in cooperation with one or more other persons, and a person or persons who obtain more than $500 from such conspiracy.

Such a conspirator is guilty of a felony and subject to imprisonment of from one to ten years and a $200,000 fine; upon repeating convictions, it is a felony punishable by a sentence of from four years to life.

Under the Cannabis Control Act, first offenders who plead guilty or are found guilty of possession, manufacture or delivery of less than 2.5 grams of cannabis — or of growing a cannabis sativa plant — and who have not been convicted under a federal law or under the Illinois Controlled Substances Act (an act dealing with all drugs) can be given more lenient treatment by the court.

Plate sales at banks increase

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, has announced that 2,187,877 passenger car license plates for 1974 were sold at 291 banks throughout Illinois and currency exchanges in the Chicago area, an increase of 387,439 over 1973.

"Bank sales provide both a convenient service for Illinois motorists and a substantial savings on postage," said Howlett.

Howlett said the program for bank sales has been growing steadily since 1966, and 85 banks were added for 1974.

Banks sold 1,786,612 plates, an increase of 110,157 over last year.

Exchanges sold an additional 401,265 plates, increasing their 1973 total by 277,282.

Total passenger car license plates sold for 1974 are expected to exceed 5 million.

State cuts paperwork pollution

In an attempt to streamline operations and improve its services, the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has reduced the amount of forms and paperwork required in various state pollution control procedures.

Committees of Illinois EPA staff members and representatives of municipal, industrial and engineering groups after several months of meetings, have completed major revisions of forms used in applying for required permits to build and to operate air pollution control and water pollution control equipment.

Richard H. Briceand, director of the Illinois EPA, said the information required in applying for operating permits has been reduced by more than 50 per cent.

As an example of the work of the committees, Briceand cited air pollution control permit application forms, which have been reduced by 60 per cent.

Most forms are easier to read and have deleted many questions which we don't believe are essential.

"I would much rather see potential polluters spend their dollars installing pollution control equipment than completing forms," Briceand said.

Members of the committees were from the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers, the Consulting Engineers Council of Illinois, the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce and the Illinois Association of Sanitary Districts.

Xi Epsilon Chi topic is prayer

A program on prayers and meditations, dealing with the life of Marcus Aurelius and excerpts from the writings of Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, was presented by Mrs. Norma Rains at a meeting of Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

The group met in the home of Mrs. May Ebling, 2810 Denver St. Mrs. Rains, president, reviewed a gourmet dinner held last week and announced an executive board meeting for tonight.

Activities at an area convention in Belleville and a ritual program were discussed by Mrs. Betty Ebling, who said a mother-daughter tea will take place May 5 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Jane Laub.

Beta Sigma Phi City Council events were itemized by Linda Koenig and Imogene Forrest, and Mrs. Arlene Haldeman, incoming president of a newly established chapter, Beta Gamma, appointed committee members.

Mrs. Betty Ebling led the group in reciting the Lord's Prayer and Ruth Stoyanoff was in charge of a discussion on the program topic.

Also present were Pat Tsigalari, Evelyn Tolliver, Dolores Byrnes, Dolores Dorich and Jean Druhe.

Mrs. Gracey is 'Secretary of Year'

Mrs. Salley Gracey, a retired employee of Nesco Steel Barrel Co., was named "Secretary of the Year" by the Tri-Cities Chapter, National Secretaries Association, at a dinner meeting held at Sunset Hills Country Club.

Officer Don Miller of KMOX radio was the guest speaker. He was introduced by Mrs. Mary Gain, who served as mistress of ceremonies at the dinner and chairman of "Secretaries' Week" activities.

The honor award to Mrs. Gracey was presented by Mrs. Gail Foley, last year's recipient. Mrs. Gracey formerly worked at Nesco Steel Barrel Co. for 16 years. She resides at 2308 Lynch Ave., and has a son, Kent.

Other events observed during the week, included a "Be Nice to the Boss" day Thursday and a chapter breakfast at Burns Cafeteria on Friday.

To conclude the week-long observance, a surprise "come as you are" party was hosted at the home of Mrs. Charlie Vunovic.

Jerseyville.

A luncheon was served by Mrs. Ruth Paubel and Mrs. Irene Reinhardt, Prize-winners during the social hour were Mrs. Nancy Mullen and Mrs. Elizabeth Woolsey.

Mary Zagorski becomes Mrs. James A. Fries Jr.

Miss Mary Jane Zagorski became the bride of James Alvin Fries Jr. at 7 p.m. April 20 at the Christ United Church of Christ, Belleville, with the Dr. John Adams and the Rev. Roger Karban officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Alice Marie Zagorski, 1802 N. 47th St., East St. Louis, and the late James Andrew Zagorski. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fries Sr., 214 N. Virginia St., Belleville.

Mrs. Shirley Jean Stoyanoff, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Vicki Lynn Zagorski, also a sister, and Diana Susan Dour, Jerilyn Petri and Agnes Margaret Asburg, cousins of the bride.

John Charles Iselhardt served as best man. James Allen Zagorski, a brother of the bride, Michael Jay Fries, the groom's brother, Starr Stoyanoff, Robert Wittenauer, Richard Kaltenbronn and David Zagorski completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

For her wedding, the bride selected an ivory gown with a wide circular skirt. Chantilly lace accented the bodice and sleeves and she wore a lace headpiece to secure a triple-tier veil.

The attendants were dressed alike in Empire style chiffon dresses, created with bishop sleeves and trimmed in Venice lace.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception at the Belleville Moose Hall.

The bride is a graduate of East St. Louis High School and will graduate from the St. Louis College of Pharmacy in 1975. Her husband was graduated from Belleville East High School. He also is a student at St. Louis College of Pharmacy. They will reside in Belleville.

Walker may seek law to regulate auto repair firms

Gov. Dan Walker said this week a five-week state investigation of the auto repair business showed that motorists sometimes are victimized by price gouging, unnecessary repairs and shoddy work by some unscrupulous auto repair shops.

In one extreme instance, the investigator was charged $125 for an unnecessary new condenser for an air conditioning unit, although the only problem with the automobile was loose alternator belt that should cost between $3 and $8 to repair, Walker said.

On the other hand, the governor pointed out, in eight of 20 separate facilities checked in the Chicago area, the auto repair shop charged the proper amount and made the correct adjustment.

Unless the auto repair industry takes steps to correct the situation, remedial state legislation will be necessary, Gov. Walker said.

One possibility is a law patterned after California law which would require registration of auto repair facilities, creation of a state auto repair abuse bureau and prior written estimates for every job. But repair shops now routinely provide estimates, Mr. Walker said.

"I oppose state regulation unless there is no alternative that will work," he commented. "But I will not hesitate to support whatever state action is appropriate if the industry refuses to correct abuses."

He announced results of the investigation at a joint news conference with Celia A. Maloney, state consumer advocate.

New agreement for township acquisition of Central site

Granite City Township has offered the Granite City public schools rent-free space for seven years if the school district will give the township the abandoned Central School building and site, the Granite City Board of Education was told Monday.

B. J. Davis, school district superintendent, told the board during a special meeting Monday that he met during the weekend with the township's building committee and was offered an extension from five years to seven years of rent-free space in a new township building, if one is constructed on the Central School site.

The township plans to use federal revenue sharing funds to design and construct a new building.

The Board of Education is being asked to give the old building to the township in exchange for the promise of use of 2,000 square feet of space in the new building which could be used for special education. Central would be demolished at the township's expense and the new building constructed there.

The special education program of the Granite City, Madison and Venice schools presently is housed in rented quarters at 2801 Madison Ave., where the school districts are paying $550 per month.

During the seven years the district would utilize the space in the township building, it would save at least $46,200 at the present rent level and probably more since the rent at the present site would almost surely increase within seven years.

The township's proposal was submitted to the Board of Education at a meeting April 22, at which time board members were offered the free space for a five-year period.

Board members indicated they wished Davis to meet with the township's building committee and give the township the option for the district to lease the space at the end of the five years could be agreed upon.

Davis reported Monday night that uncertainty of the future of the township form of government, and inability by the school district and the township to predict what space requirements will be seven years from now, made an agreement for an option to lease after that period impractical.

He said the seven years, rather than the five previously offered, was a satisfactory solution to both parties, in his opinion.

He told the board he did discuss the possible sale of the building with a local realtor who is representing a religious group and said if the group is to make an offer for the school, it should be available at the next Board of Education meeting, Tuesday, May 7.

The board has not made a commitment to the township, but the school and township attorneys are to prepare a formal agreement for consideration by the board, possibly at the May 7 meeting.

The board met in closed session to discuss expulsion of a pupil from Granite City High School. Those involved in the case were heard by the board which then voted to expel the student for the remainder of the school year on the basis of his exhibiting disrespect for the authority of teachers and administrators and for his striking a teacher.

Organization and Management of Early Childhood Education Programs (Ed. 445), Donald Darrell, instructor, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Aug. 12-20.

Heartworms threat to dogs in region

Heartworms are becoming a severe problem for dogs in this region, a spokesman for the Southern Illinois Veterinary Medical Association said here today.

Heartworm disease in dogs was at one time a rarely diagnosed condition, limited primarily to the southern and eastern portions of the U.S.

With the advent of rapid transit, the great mobility of the population and its pets, and the ubiquitous nature of the carrier of this disease (the mosquito), it has become common not only in Illinois, but also in most regions of the United States, the official related.

The scientific term for the heartworm is dirofilaria immitis. It is a long, thin, round worm which inhabits the chambers of heart and major blood vessels.

Heartworms can be transmitted to dogs only through the bite of a mosquito. The mature, adult worms produce larva called microfilaria which release to the circulating bloodstream.

The microfilaria are the organisms the veterinarian is looking for when he performs a blood test on a dog to detect heartworms.

"The mosquito picks up the microfilaria from an infected dog while feeding on him. The microfilaria then go through a development stage in the mosquito and are injected into another dog by the bite and subsequent feeding of the mosquito.

Nine months from the time of the bite, the new, mature, adult worm will be in the heart of the new victim and producing microfilaria.

The most obvious signs or symptoms of the disease are tiring quickly with exercise or a soft, nonproductive cough. These are signs of impaired blood circulation through the heart area.

The spokesman said, "The safest recommendations would be to have all dogs over one year of age checked for heartworms at six-month intervals.

"Dogs housed outside at night are particularly vulnerable to mosquitoes, so in areas where the disease is common or prevalent they should be placed on preventive medication.

"The most effective preventatives now available come in liquid or tablet form and are given daily by a dosage schedule varying with the weight of the dog. Screening of outside kennels and mosquito control are essential preventive measures.

"If it is detected early enough, a veterinarian can successfully treat heartworm disease.

The most effective treatment consists of a series of injections of an arsenic compound. While the treatment effectively kills the worms, we cannot minimize the seriousness of the treatment; it is a life-threatening danger to the animal. The dog should in most cases be hospitalized and kept under close observation.

Within this mind, it can be seen that the best cure is prevention. The best preventive measures are the ones prescribed and outlined by your veterinarian."

Honor three as master editors

Three Southern Illinois newspaper editors were honored Friday evening by the Southern Illinois University at Carbondale School of Journalism, C. E. Townsend of Granite City is a past recipient.

Presented with golden awards at the annual Southern Illinois Editorial Association-SIU Journalism banquet were Leon H. Church, Lebanon Advertiser, Franklin M. Deering, Effingham Daily News, and J. N. Vallow, Kinmundy Express.

The golden award, recognition of outstanding service to journalism and the community, and symbolic of the printer's "cm"—traditional term in newspaper printshops—is awarded annually to Southern Illinois editors for long service.

'Keep on Walking' Walkathon theme

"Keep on Walking" will be the theme of this year's Granite City March of Dimes Walkathon which is being organized jointly by the student councils of Granite City South and North high schools for Sunday morning.

The purpose of the event is to raise money to help fight birth defects.

Individuals wishing to participate may pick up a sponsor sheet from either high school office and the participant then may solicit sponsors to pay so much a mile to the March of Dimes for each mile the person walks. The route to be followed will cover 10 miles.

The "walk" will begin at 10:30 a.m. May 5 at North. Each participant will receive a "paper foot" that must be stamped at each of the six check points along the route, which will end at the Wilson Park Ice Rink.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Page 40 Thurs., May 2, 1974

Prizes will be awarded to the first 20 persons who finish the walk, the one with the most sponsors and the one who collects the most money.

Hot dogs will be served at the end of the walk and a rock band will play until 5 p.m.

North and South students are to turn in their money between May 6 and May 30 at their respective school cafeterias. Grigsby, Coolidge and Prather students are to turn in their money to their respective school offices.

10,100 enrolled at SIUE

Spring quarter enrollment at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville totals 10,100. Robert M. Bruker, director of admissions and records, has announced. The figure compares with a total of 10,506 registered for the spring quarter of 1973.

The total includes 1,786 freshmen, 1,632 sophomores, 2,031 juniors, 2,485 seniors, 2,102 graduate students and 64 at the School of Dental Medicine. The School of Education enrollment totals 1,588, followed by the School of Business, 1,188; School of Fine Arts, 590; School of Science and Technology, 536; School of Social Sciences, 512; School of Nursing, 285; the Deane College, 231; the School of Humanities, 116; and the School of Dental Medicine, 64.

Small new post president

John Robert Small, 18, a business major at SIUE, was elected president of Explorer Post 104, a law enforcement specialty post sponsored by the Madison Lions Club and Police Department.

Small has worked at the Kroger Store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center for the past year and a half and currently is a checker at the store.

He is an Eagle Scout and a Vigil member of the Order of the Arrow.

Other officers elected were: Brad Crown, first vice president; Mike Wilmore, second vice president; Kevin Kearns, secretary; and Randy Affolter, treasurer.

J. Richard Hooks is post advisor.

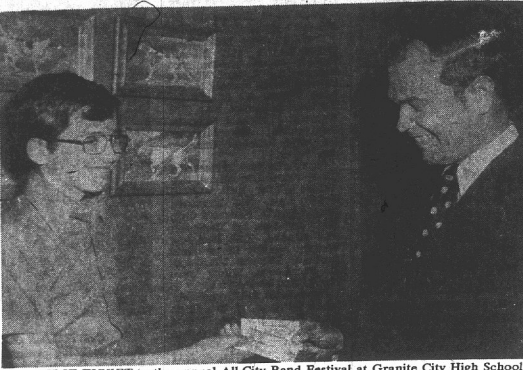

The post is planning an area-wide light bulb sale May 10, 11 and 12 to help raise funds for their "super activity" in August which will be a trip to Washington, D.C., and surrounding area for a week.

Last year the Explorers toured the state of Texas and visited Mexico.

Post 104 meets on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month at the Madison City Hall.

Alumni weekend at Illinois Wesleyan

Illinois Wesleyan University's Alumni Weekend May 17-19 will open with a volunteer leadership dinner at 6:30 p.m. Friday, May 17, in the Memorial Student Center at Bloomington.

The program will include presentation of alumni loyalty awards and the outstanding young alumnus award, a report on the 1973-74 alumni fund by Jack Horenberger and a 30 minute audio-visual presentation, "Window on Wesleyan."

"The special reunion classes will be from the years 1914, 1919, 1924, 1929, 1934, 1939, 1944, 1949 and 1954," Harry Lovell, director of alumni affairs, reports.

"These classes, in particular the silver anniversary class, 1949, and the golden anniversary class, 1924, will be recognized at the Alumni Day dinner on Saturday, May 18," he added.

Alumni Day will open with the fourth annual Horenberger alumni open golf tournament at 7:30 a.m. at the Illinois State U. golf course. General registration will start at 8 a.m. and student-guided tours of the campus will start at 9 a.m.

Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary, will sponsor a coffee hour in Memorial Student Center during the morning.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Eckley will be hosts at the President's open house at 10 a.m. in their home at 1201 N. Park. Reunion class meetings and pictures are scheduled from 11 a.m. until the dinner.

The Alumni Day dinner at 1 p.m. will be highlighted by presentation of the distinguished alumnus award and the election of Alumni Association officers and council members. Jim Stahly, class of 1962, will preside.

After the dinner, Delta Omicron, national professional music fraternity for women, will hold a reunion at 2:30 p.m. in Presser Hall.

The Alpha Tau Delta tea will be held at 2 p.m. in the Shanks Reception Room of Edgar M. Stevenson Hall. Alpha Tau Delta is the national professional fraternity for women in nursing.

An informal outdoor barbecue at 3:30 p.m. at the Arnold Cabana will end the day.

On Sunday, May 19, alumni may attend the 10:30 a.m. baccalaureate service and the 5 p.m. commencement exercise on the south campus.

GC Trust gives service awards

The 13th annual service awards dinner was held at the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank Monday night.

Ernest A. Karandjeff, president of the bank, who served as toastmaster, presented service awards to 21 employees.

One-year service awards were presented to Betty Baranica, Judy Doherty, Linda Holmes, Ann Metz, Lois Miller, Sylvia Pashea, Linda Presley, Nancy Hamilton, Tricia Slagter, Dale Parrish, and Scott Smith.

Five-year awards were given to Vicki Metcalf, Karen Poole, Jerry McDonald, and Charlie Papp; ten-year awards to Mary Mucho and Barbara Sherman; 15-year award to Delores Dorich; 20-year awards to Eva Pulley, Veda Norton, and Tony Zedolek.

A thirty-year award was presented to Ernest A. Karandjeff by Carl Mathias, a director of the bank.

Dinner was served to 158 employees, their families and directors. Bill Apperson, local magician, assisted by his wife, entertained with a one-hour performance.

Henry D. Karandjeff, board chairman, presented the closing remarks.

PHILMONT SCOUT RESERVATION near Cimarron, N. M., covers 140,000 acres (215 square miles). Checking the route are five of the 48 local Scouts who will make the trip. From left are Darren Geisler, Troop 7; Rich Bunch, Troop 5; Pat Poirer and Keith Sanders, both of Troop 46, and Tom Sawyer of Troop 96. The Scouts will leave for the Sangre de Cristo Mountain country Aug. 5.

$500 loot taken from storage shed

Items worth more than $500 were stolen from a storage shed at the home of Leo Kalips Jr., 2614 Iowa St., during the weekend.

Kalips said he heard a noise at the rear of his home and saw two men enter an old green pickup truck and leave. He later noticed the doors had been removed from his shed.

Stolen were a hammock, two tires, a lawn trimmer, two gallons of paint, a three wheel bicycle, three lawn chairs and a lawn mower. Kalips said he believed the men were attempting to steal his boat when he frightened them.

Dunbar teacher dismissed

The Madison Board of Education Monday evening approved a resolution to dismiss a sixth-grade teacher at Dunbar School.

The teacher has had several problems develop between her, the students, other teachers and the school administration according to a board spokesman. The action was taken in a special board meeting.

Bids were opened on a new dishwasher and tables for Dunbar school. Service Equipment Company submitted the low bid of $3,022. Other bids and bidders were Parke Food $4,222 and Peerless Hotel Supply $5,000.

The low bid was accepted tentatively pending a complete review of the equipment. It was felt that the equipment should be inspected before being accepted because of the price range between bids.

The Madison High School band was granted permission to participate in the March of Dimes "Walkathon" being sponsored by the Madison Junior Service Club Sunday.

A high school student was reinstated in school on a probationary status following a 4 p.m. Monday meeting by the board. The student had been involved in a fight.

DRIVER INJURED

Michael Mousette, 19, of 2542 Lincoln Ave., was injured when he stopped his auto suddenly at railroad tracks to avoid an approaching train and his face struck the steering wheel at 1:15 a.m. Tuesday. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for cuts to his nose and face. X-rays were taken and he was admitted.

MOTORCYCLE ACCIDENT

Lawrence Alvey, 36, of Collinsville, suffered an abrasion to his right knee in a motorcycle accident and was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital this week. He was released following treatment.

Mitchell school dog show

Students in the sixth-grade class at Mitchell school, taught by Leroy Farby, sponsored a dog show at the school. All sixth-grade students were encouraged to enter their pets. Prizes were awarded.

A tie developed for healthiest dog and duplicate prizes were awarded the two owners.

Phyllis Johnson and Chris Andrews were awarded to owners: Richard Kindie, for best of breed; Kenny Stemmer, best trained; Lisa Clifford, most unusual; and Brenda Soden, best looking. Other entering dogs were Shelia Hartzel, Cindy Wilson, Kay Gault, Debbie Nash and Mrs. Jo Ann Pelate, a sixth-grade teacher.

Judges for the event were Mrs. Sue Gowan manager of the Pink Poodle Salon; Mrs. Phyllis Correll, PTA room mother, and A. E. Fuller, teacher at Mitchell school.

Rotary hosts student group

Obert Loman, senior class president at Madison High School, and Kevin Ditch, Linda Shultz and Joe Young, all members of the MHS student advisory committee, were guests of the Madison Rotary Club meeting last week.

The four students explained the role they have been playing as a line of better communications between the students, faculty, administration and the School Board.

The "green coat" concept by which members of the committee wear green coats at school functions such as basketball games and serve as monitors was explained by the students.

As part of the Title IV program dealing with community involvement in schools, the student advisory committee will attend a meeting at the National College, Evanston, Ill. in mid-May.

The Madison Rotarians voted to sponsor Addie Heard, a Madison High School freshman, in a Miss Teenage contest to be held in Chicago in June.

FUTURE SECRETARY. Miss Connie Jackson, a two-year member of the Future Secretaries Association at Granite City High School South, spends a day in the office of First Union, Inc., St. Louis, as part of the National Secretaries Week program. The senior co-op student works mornings at St. Elizabeth Hospital and is a part-time employee at the A&P Grocery store.

Lewis-Clark pilgrimage

The 6th annual Lewis and Clark Pilgrimage will be held Saturday, May 11, at 1:15 p.m., beginning at the Ship-to-shore Radio Station North of I-270 Chain of Rocks Canal Bridge and east of the canal. Directional signs will be posted.

The program at the starting point will include Indian dancing by Explorer Post 6, sponsored by the Concordia Lutheran Men's Brotherhood.

A short program at the Lewis and Clark State Park will mark the 170th anniversary of the famed expedition.

Parking will be available at the starting point. Shuttling of cars will be necessary for those who do not wish to make the return hike.

Those who make the hike may purchase a five-color embroidered emblem for $1, but are not required to do so.

Gay awareness week at SIUE

Students for Gay Liberation at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are sponsoring a "Gay Awareness Week" April 28 through May 5. According to Larry Whitsett, president, the program is a student, university and community effort to discuss "homosexuality and its reality in our society."

Topics including "Lesbian Feminism," "The Sociology of 'Coming Out,'" and "Homophobia" were presented Monday in the Mississippi-Illinois Room of the University Center. The panel included representatives from the SIUE Students for Gay Liberation, the Lesbian Alliance and the Mandrake Society of St. Louis.

On Wednesday, two national Gay activists spoke in the Goshen Lounge of the University Center from noon to 2 p.m. Barbara Gittings, coordinator of the Task Force on Gay Liberation of the American Library Association and author of "A Gay Bibliography," was the first speaker.

The second speaker was Franklin Kameny, a member of the Washington, D. C., chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).

TREATED AT HOSPITAL

Mrs. Dixie Doran, 35, of Collinsville, was examined at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 10:05 p.m. Monday after an auto accident. Minor injuries were diagnosed and she was released.

District WWI veterans convene

Area members of Veterans of World War I barracks and auxiliaries convened this week at the VFW Hall in Collinsville to elect and install District 4 officers.

About 100 attended the event which started with a 12:30 p.m. pulchuck dinner.

Separate business sessions were conducted by Charles Campbell of Alton, District 4 commander, and Mrs. Violet Schmidt of Edwardsville, district auxiliary president.

Special guests of the group were Harold Bigelow of Salem, Illinois, Department commander; his wife, Mrs. Hazel Bigelow, auxiliary state conductress; Grace Lutz of Noble, state publicity chairman; Albert Zarley of Alton, Illinois, Department president; Ann Villhardt of Belleville, Department chief of staff; Lillian Schall of O'Fallon, past state president; Stel Geibel of Belleville, 2nd District president; and William Villhardt of Belleville.

Barracks members elected Louis Schmidt of Edwardsville as District 4 commander. Auxiliary delegates renamed Mrs. Schmidt as the district president.

The new district officials were installed by the visiting state dignitaries. Among those present were several members of Madison Barracks 34 and Auxiliary.

COUPLES RETURN FROM TOUR THROUGH OZARKS
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Voach, 2824 Grand Ave., have returned home after a vacation of several days touring the Missouri and Arkansas Ozarks. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kadane.

Among the points of interest visited were Norfolk Lake in Mountain Home, Ark., Buffalo River State Park, Ark., and Greers Ferry Lake in Batesville, Ark.
